GOVERNOR SMITH ENTHUSIASTS FORECAST NOMINATION

Will Gets "Kick" In Landing On His Home Ranch

(Special To The News)

CHELSEA, Okla., May 2.—I got the real "kick" of my life out of aviation yesterday. Left Western Kansas and flew down on the old ranch I was born on. It was the first machine that was ever in there. When I was raised there I never thought there would be anything faster than a horse get in there. I ask you and plead with you again, you luncheon clubbers, will you please paint the name of your town on top of your building. I will pay for the paint if you will do it. We were lost and all the towns in Kansas had no names we could make out till we got to Bartlesville, Okla., who had their name out. Are you ashamed of your town?

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc is in hope that some time he may be able to attend a performance where the audience failed to applaud when some of the stage hands come out to change the stage properties during a performance. At the cathedral last night, this was nearly recorded, but someone in the audience couldn't resist the final appearance of the stage hands, and broke the spell.

Street signs erected on some of the main thoroughfares of New Castle several years ago, are needing some attention. At a number of intersections the signs are loose, and should be repaired at once, or they will naturally cease to exist due to lack of proper attention. Action is necessary to save some of the signs.

Four wheel brakes saved a life this morning, near The Castleton hotel, the life of a dog. While a car was going up Mercer street, a white collie took a notion to go across the street without waiting for traffic to clear. The dog got about in front of an approaching auto and then, seeing the danger, wheeled around and started back the same way it came from. The driver of the car by manipulation of the brakes stopped the car in time to avert the impending tragedy.

At midnight last night, some immense moving vans were going through New Castle, coming from the Pittsburgh area and bound west. It is likely that operation of immense trucks on the highways at night will become a regular thing in the future. In fact, this plan is being suggested in many cities as a means of eliminating some of the traffic congestion on streets during the daytime—operating trucks at night.

Stopping of traffic on Washington street for a short time has a far reaching effect. Yesterday, when the boys' parade was moving along Washington street and traffic was blocked for fifteen or twenty minutes, auto traffic was interfered with for several blocks north and south of Washington street and on cross streets. Hundreds of cars were affected by the use of Washington street for the parade.

Rather surprising announcement to some New Castleites was that of yesterday showing that $313,000 in city taxes had been paid in here during the month of April, or $40,000 more than the same month one year ago. Speaks well for the condition of New Castle.

Motorists are visibly reminded that they are in a school zone when they

Smith Cohorts Jubilant Over Coast Primary

Smashing Victory For Al Smith In California Vote Pleases Supporters

PREDICT CHOICE ON FIRST BALLOT

Senator Reed Of Missouri Still In Picture, But Walsh Is Out

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Almost the last faint chance that Al Smith "can be stopped" at Houston next month flickered out today in the wake of the California primary, which saw the New York governor score a smashing victory over his chief rivals for the Democratic nomination.

The governor's friends were jubilantly proclaiming today that "Al is in", and even the ultra-dry and anti-Tammany bitter enders were disposed to concede it. There is scarcely a Democratic leader in Washington today who now believes that Governor Smith will fail to attain the necessary two-thirds of the convention, although some of them, for local reasons, are not shouting it from the house-tops.

By his victory in California, which was hailed as the big test of Smith's appeal in the West, the governor has now run his total of favorable and committed delegates to approximately 508.

This is out of a total of 658 delegates thus far selected, so that Smith is running, on a percentage basis, far in excess of the required two-thirds. And of the 158 delegates chosen who are not definitely committed to Smith it is known that some will vote for him after paying their respects to favorite sons.

Predict Early Choice

Smith lieutenants in Washington were predicting today that he will be nominated on the first ballot. Certainly if the governor can maintain the dizzy pace he has set thus far among the 442 delegates still to be selected, their predictions will be borne out. Smith needs roughly about 200 delegates yet, and his friends say there will be no difficulty in obtaining them.

While appreciating the numerical value of California's 26 delegates, it was not merely the acquisition of this much arithmetical strength that most impressed the governor's supporters today. What they dwelt most heavily upon was the decisive repudiation of the theory persistently emphasized by the opposition that "Smith has no appeal in the West" because of his

Widow Puts Her Case Into Citizens' Hands By Re-election Plea

By HOMER H. GRUENTHER
(Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News)

OMAHA, Neb., May 2.—Mrs. A. A. Holtman, society woman, widow of a prominent physician, is going to put her case before the public by running for re-election to the school board.

She says the election will be a test as to whether Omaha citizens believe stories that she had threatened to shoot her husband.

These stories emanated from testimony during a trial recently, when Mrs. Holtman tried to break a second and secret will which Dr. Holtman made known to her only a few hours before his death.

Made Same Kind of Wills

In 1923 Dr. and Mrs. Holtman made reciprocal wills, each making it plain that the one dying first was to leave every penny of his or her estate to the survivor. According to testimony, however, Dr. Holtman, after making

Pittsburgh Boys Escape Injuries As Plane Falls

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 2—When their airplane crashed 40 feet to the ground near Indianapolis, Tom Dye, 19, pilot, and Albert Swartz, both Pittsburgh youths, escaped without injury, according to a telegram which Dye's mother, Mrs. T. A. Dye, received from her son today.

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon only a few hours after they took off from Mayer field, Bridgeville, in Dye's Travelair plane.

According to the telegram, Dye landed the plane in a field to inquire the location of an airport. Attempting to take off again, Dye veered sharply to avoid a high tension wire. The plane turned and crashed to the ground. The landing gear on the plane was smashed. Dye wired, and that he and Swartz were only slightly shaken up.

AMERICAN FLYING FIELDS PRAISED

Plan To Tour United States In F-13, Sister Plane To Bremen

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The German-Irish flyers would like to fly their plane Bremen back across the Atlantic and will do so if it is at all possible, Major James Fitzmaurice declared here today.

No definite decision has been made, he said, because so many factors are involved in arranging the return flight.

To Tour U. S.

The flyers will use the Bremen's sister ship, the Junkers F-13, on their tour of the United States, the itinerary for which will be definitely announced later. Fitzmaurice said an effort will be made in about eight days to get the Bremen off Greenely Island.

He praised American aviation.

"You have the finest flying fields in the world," he said. "Your flying organization is excellent. I think there are great prospects in America for the development of aviation."

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The daring trio of two Germans and one Irishman, who wrote a new and brilliant page in aeronautical history by spanning the Atlantic in the first east-to-west crossing, came to Washington today and received the plandits of the government and the populace for their stirring achievement.

The capital has no towering skyscrapers from which to shower down storms of ticker tape upon its honized visitors, no hysterical millions to scream a welcome and mob them, but every official from President Coolidge down to the admiring flappers in the government departments joined today in an unfolding panorama of official recognition and high praise for the heroic crew of the Bremen.

Senate Plans To Close Oil Inquiry Soon

History Of Continental Bonds No Longer Secret, Investigation Will End

SINCLAIR REVEALS BONDS' WHEREABOUTS

New Probe Into Salt Creek Oil Leases Is Expected To Be Launched Soon

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The history of the mysterious Continental Trading Company and the division of its $3,080,000 Liberty bond "slush fund" was a matter of public record today as the senate oil committee prepared to close its bond inquiry and launch a new investigation into the Salt Creek (Wyoming) oil field leases.

The senate inquiry has revealed that Harry F. Sinclair, Robert W. Stewart, James E. O'Neill and Henry M. Blackmer shared almost equally in the distribution of Continental bonds. Their shares were Sinclair, $757,900; Stewart, $759,500; O'Neil, $737,900; Blackmer, $763,000. The remainder of the $3,080,000—or $61,600—went to Henry Smith Osler, president of the Continental and its "paymaster."

Preparatory to the big Shrine ceremonial which will be held in New Castle on June 14, when 100 or more members of the Masonic fraternity from Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties will be initiated into the mysteries of the Oriental order, a Fun and Fellowship Forum was held Tuesday evening in the Scottish Rite cathedral by the Lawrence County Shrine Caravan.

It was a typical Shrine party. One in which Old Man Dull Care was anesthetized early in the evening and never did recover until the lights had been turned out. One in which about 300 business and professional men gave themselves over to having a good time and, as usual, they had it.

Few Speeches.

There was a little speaking, and very little at that. President Fred L. Rentz made a short address in which he urged the members to interest themselves in the Shrine ceremonial, and Secretary Walter C. DeArment made a similar address. This was all the speaking, which made it all right

A short time before the hour set to start, scnools from all over the city began to send their delegations to the American Legion home, corner of North Jefferson and Falls streets, where the parade originated. Each contingent of boys was led by a troop of Boy Scouts who saw to it that they got to their destination safely.

Lindbergh Denies Plans For Another Atlantic Flight

Colonel Lindbergh Denies Report Of Projected Northern Atlantic Hop

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh isn't planning any more trans-Atlantic flights to Europe.

The pioneer ocean flyer made that plain today in denying the latest story emanating from the Washington rumor factory that he had completed plans for such a flight this summer with stops at Greenland and Iceland.

Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier of the army air service, who was mentioned as his co-pilot in such an undertaking, issued a similar denial.

"Such a flight would add nothing to the advancement of aviation," said Lindbergh.

He said he still hoped to return to Europe "some day" and see the things he missed last summer when the government ordered his immediate return to the United States, but he has made no definite plans.

Pet Parade Is Being Planned

Arrangements Being Made For Procession Here On Saturday Morning

As a part of the Boys' Week program sponsored by the Rotary club of this city, a pet parade will be held on Saturday morning, in which every boy of the city is invited to join, according to Louis B. Round.

All kinds of pets are eligible for the parade. Dogs, cats, ponies, horses, anything at all, and prizes will be given for the best exhibits in line.

The parade will move out from the Legion Home at 10 o'clock, march up to the Pennsylvania station on East Washington street and countermarch to the Legion Home where the prizes will be awarded. Further announcement will be made on Thursday.

Publishers Are Threatened By Big Dope Ring

Evidence Seen Of Widespread Campaign Against Newspapers By Dope Ring

THREATEN DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

General Investigation Into Case Ordered By Colonel L. G. Nutt, Narcotic Chief

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Evidence of a widespread campaign of threat and intimidation against newspapers on behalf of a self-styled "dope ring," was disclosed today by Col. L. G. Nutt, head of the Federal narcotic unit.

Letters sent to three publications from Los Angeles and turned over to the Federal authorities said:

"Warning to the publisher: if you publish any articles of any kind about us we will blow up your place and kill you. And we don't mean maybe. Keep your mouth shut and watch your step. We mean business. (signed) The Dope Ring."

The letters were sent to the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association, of Baltimore, the publication of the Sons of America, a patriotic society of Baltimore, and to the Masonic Herald, of Rome, Ga.

Letters Puzzling

Col Nutt was puzzled as to whether the letters were actually written by an agent for some dope ring and are to be taken seriously, or whether they were prepared by a dope crazed fanatic, or constituted nothing more than a hoax.

Information also was received that a newspaper in New England had received a similar threatening letter. Nutt said that undoubtedly a large number of other threats have been written to daily newspapers. He ordered a general investigation.

The letters were printed in pencil on ordinary white paper. They were mailed at the Arcade sub-postal station at Los Angeles. Narcotic agents in charge at Los Angeles and San Francisco will be furnished with all details. Nutt requested all newspapers or publications which have received threats purporting to be from dope rings to communicate with him at once.

"Whether these letters are the work of a fanatic or an organized ring, the writer or writers should not be permitted to remain at large, Nutt said.

Conditions Good

Narcotic conditions in Los Angeles are considered better than in most large cities. Activity of the Federal agents and local police there have succeeded in driving out many dope peddlers. From the national standpoint there is little change in the situation from a few months ago.

Nutt said that virtually the entire supply of dope reaching illegitimate channels comes from foreign sources. With the exception of opium, which is imported chiefly through Seattle and distributed by Orientals, most of the smuggled narcotics comes from Europe. Considerable quantities are taken overland to the West Coast. Nutt said that there is an indication that the number of addicts is declining and that the traffic is under control.

Teachers who wind up their school terms this week and next are even now planning what they will do during the summer months. But most of them are scanning college catalogues, getting ready to go to school again.

Everyone will stop to see a parade. Yesterday afternoon when the boys of the city paraded up and down Washington street, business was suspended temporarily while merchants came to the doors of their stores to watch the marchers go past. And thousands watched the boys go past. They will be the citizens of tomorrow, and they are to be congratulated on the spirit they show.

This evening the fate of civic music in New Castle will be decided. There is little doubt that the plan will meet with small success, but it needs the wholehearted support of the community if it is to be put over in a grand manner. New Castle needs music: it needs the best music that it can get. The civic music plan is one way in which this music can be secured for the city at a small cost, within the reach of everyone. You should support it.

wet views and his Tammany affiliation.

Walsh Is Third

Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, an avowed dry, and backed by William G. McAdoo in the California contest, finished a poor third to Smith and a poor second to Senator James A. Reed of Missouri. Incomplete returns and private advices reaching Democratic leaders here indicate that Smith will eventually be shown to have polled more votes than his two rivals combined.

This, the Smith supporters declared today, is the answer to the oft-advanced contention of the opposition that "the dry democracy of the West will never accept Smith". The governor even carried southern California, which is the stronghold of the dry sentiment of the state.

The future of Senator Walsh's candidacy appeared doubtful today. Thus far Walsh has not a single committed delegate, save his own eight from Montana, and prior to the announcement of his candidacy it was known that Montana's delegates were favorable to the New York governor. Walsh was entered in Wisconsin, and lost to Smith and Reed. He has now lost again, and heavily, in California.

Reed in Picture

Reed, on the other hand, is still in the picture. At least he has a total of some 64 delegates, scattered through half a dozen states.

Smith's present total of 508 delegates are scattered from Maine to California, and from the Canadian border to the gulf, which is another point that his friends dwell upon to show the universal nature of his strength.

As compiled here and conceded to be substantially accurate, the Smith slate shows to date:

Arizona, 6; Kansas, 8 out of 18; California, 26; Idaho, 8; Illinois, 50 out of 58; Iowa, 26; Louisiana, 20; Maine, 12; Massachusetts, 36; Michigan, 30; Minnesota, 24; New Hampshire, 8; New York, 90; North Dakota, 10; Oklahoma, 12 out of 20; Pennsylvania, 66 out of 76; Rhode Island, 10; Washington, 14; Wisconsin, 20 out of 26; Wyoming, 6; the territories, 26.

The trouble about arguing with a fool is that half of the audience will think he is doing it.

with the crowd for they were there for entertainment.

The program took in everything from ballad singing to magic tricks. All of them were good but Dick Ware, a comedian, and Menke the Trickster rather edged away from the crowd in the quality of their entertainment. Other entertainers were Ethel Wolfe, a dancer; Marge Nelson, soloist; Ethel Berk, soloist; Shafer and Roberts, acrobats; Earl and Marie Gates, Bowery dancers; Smith and Shean, comedians.

Wizard Appears.

Menke, the man who proved that the hand was quicker than the eye, was a delight every minute of the time. The men present compared him favorably with Houdini and agreed after he was through that he was a whole program in himself. It is to be hoped that the gentleman can be persuaded to come back to New Castle at some date in the near future.

Following the program a feed and smoker filled the hours and when the entire evening was over the Shriners were ready to admit that everything was under control. Two visitors of distinction were J. Hay Dimling and Carl Ehni of the commissary department of the Syria Temple. They will have charge of the feeding of the guests on June 14 and their reputation in Pittsburgh is that of doing things right.

If the party of last night is any shadow of what is to come on June 14, the ceremonial here will be one to remember. Syria Temple will bring 1500 or men here to assist in the work, and in addition, all the equipment that goes to make up the degrees. It is expected that over 100 will take the degrees.

the reciprocal will, went to the office of an attorney friend and told him that his wife had just forced him to make a reciprocal will, but that it was not what he desired. He told his friend that he desired to leave part of his money to his brother, John Holtman, of Center City, Minn., and to his two sisters, Mrs. Mable Holtman Johnson of St. Paul and Miss Ida Holtman of Minneapolis, Minn.

When Dr. Holtman died in 1926 he left $20,000 to be divided evenly among his two sisters and his brother—his wife was to get any balance. Death was due to heart disease, according to the attending physician.

Mrs. Holtman, the widow, fought the probation of the second will on the grounds that her husband had no right to make a second will without telling her that he did not desire to carry out the reciprocal will.

The trial was the result. The blood relatives and many of the doctor's friends testified that they were present many times when Mrs. Holtman flourished a gun when she desired to make her husband do something, or when they had arguments.

What Witnesses Testified

Friends of the doctor, many of them prominent Omahans, testified that Dr. Holtman had told them his wife had threatened to shoot him on numerous occasions.

The court decided for the blood relatives.

Mrs. Holtman was selected two years ago by Governor Adam McMullen as Nebraska's most representative woman, being sent to Philadelphia Sesquicentennial exposition.

SENATE PLANS TO CLOSE OIL INQUIRY SOON

share of the Continental bonds. He told of giving $233,000 to former secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall in a ranch deal; $260,000 to the Republican national committee, of which $100,000 was later repaid, and of "lending" $100,000 personally to Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, now movie star. All these transactions were in Continental bonds, the committee revealed, although Sinclair said he didn't know it at the time, because he had so many bonds.

One development of the senate inquiry was the revelation that Sinclair, Stewart, Blackmer and O'Neill all have given up the bonds they received from the Continental fund. Sinclair gave his a week ago to the Sinclair crude oil purchasing company. Stewart gave his share two weeks ago to the Standard Oil of Indiana, which turned them over too to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Co. Blackmer put his in a trust fund to be distributed later. O'Neill turned his share over to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company. They even turned back interest coupons, which they had cashed.

Tells Strange Story.

Sinclair told a strange story about his sharing in the Continental fund. He termed Blackmer the head of the Continental and told of getting Blackmer to allow him a portion of the Continental profits for his companies. He got the bonds in 1922 and 1923, held them in secret at Blackmer's insistence for six years and turned them over to the Sinclair concern a week ago, destroying then all records of the deal.

"Why did I destroy the memorandum of these bonds? I had no particular reason," he said. "The records were closed so far as I was concerned so I destroyed them."

Asked why he didn't tell the directors of his company that he had these bonds, Sinclair said: "I had no reason for telling them. My directors had confidence in me. I knew they'd know about it sooner or later."

Another time, he said he kept his possession of the bonds secret "because there was too much publicity anyway."

HUNDREDS OF BOYS MARCH IN PARADE

blare of martial music made him feel that the boys had caught the spirit of America. And a steady tramp of marching feet reminded him that the boy power of the country will soon be the man power that will move it forward.

Parade Through City

Led by two motorcycle policemen, Augostine and Richards, the parade started at the Legion home, marched to Washington street, up Washington to County Line street, countermarched back down Washington street to Jefferson, where again the boys assembled in front of the Legion home. There "Retreat" was played by Trenton Eckles as the flag was lowered. Legionnaires F. F. Knowles, J. N. Speed and Ed. Hoye, in full uniform, assisted at the ceremony.

Each of the schools was led by a troop of the Boy Scouts of the Lawrence County Council. Six musical organizations were in line: the Senior High school band, the newly organized Boy Scout Band, the Ben Franklin Junior High school band, the North Street Junior high school band, the Croton band, and the Drum and Bugle corps of troop 15, Boy Scouts of America. As general marshals of the parade, John M. Myers, Charles T. Metzler and Louis B. Round led the procession. They were assisted along the line of march by Marshals J. K. Heess, Harry S. Bailey, Frank F. Fischer, Thomas Gilkey, Dr. C. C. Green, Peter Grittie, Jr., Frank A. Hover, J. Lee Calahan and Jack Thomas.

After the parade, the idea of the May Day ceremony was explained by Louis B. Round, who declared that in America demonstrations like these are for the purpose of offsetting their counterpart in Europe: those of the Reds.

"The purpose of the boys parade is two-fold," continued Mr. Round. "It is to awaken patriotism in the boy, and to show the future man power of the nation as a mass. It reveals what an asset the growing boy is to the community.

"Much of the credit for the magnificent turn out that we had is because of the efforts of Dr. C. C. Green, who co-operated to the fullest extent. We also wish to thank Mayor Gillespie and Chief of Police Horner for the assistance they rendered us. Traffic was tied up on the streets, we know, the traffic lights were out, and policemen had to direct the cars. All of this meant a lot of trouble to the city government, and we are especially thankful to them. All seemed to be anxious to help.

"We also wish to extend our thanks to the members of the Lions and Rotary clubs and other organizations that have helped in the parade. With their co-operation, next year, we feel sure that May Day will be even bigger and better."

Kellogg Welcomes Fliers

A warm, friendly sun beat down on Bolling Field, where the official ceremonies began, at 10 o'clock, with Secretary of State Kellogg formally welcoming the visitors in the name of the government.

"It is with feeling of the deepest admiration for your magnificent exploit that I welcome you today on behalf of the government and people of this country," said Kellogg. "Your task was indeed one to test the power of human endurance, and its successful accomplishment has stirred the entire nation.

"You have marked another milestone on the path of man's conquest over the forces of nature. Moreover, I like to consider your achievement symbolic of the ever-narrowing distances which separate the nations of the modern world, both in a real and a figurative sense.

Happy Outcome

"Your undertaking itself was an example of international co-operation and its happy outcome is all the more gratifying to this country to whose upbuilding the German and Irish nations has so richly contributed."

A storm of applause from the crowd of several thousand people, grouped about a temporary stand on the field, added emphasis to Kellogg's simple tribute.

In the official group on the stand were Herr Frederic Wilhelm von Prittwitz und Gaffron, the German ambassador; Timothy Smiddy, the Irish minister; the air secretaries of the war, navy and commerce departments, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and a distinguished group of army and navy officers.

Greet Lindy

The applause grew into an ovation as, at the conclusion of Kellogg's remarks, Lindbergh stepped forwerd and was introduced to his contemporaries.

There was little of the tumultous acclaim of New York's reception, however, in the Washington welcome today. There were few people on the streets when the flyers made their first appearance, and not many more when they left Bolling Field and motored back to their hotel after the welcome at the field.

President Coolidge's first act of recognition of the Bremen's achievement today was to sign a bill conferring upon its crew the American distinguished flying cross. When Congress authorized the medals a hurried search at the War Department disclosed there were only two on hand. Late yesterday an army airplane flew to Philadelphia, obtained additional medals and flew back this morning.

A crowd which thronged the White House grounds to overflowing saw the fliers enter the executive mansion to receive their decorations from Mr. Coolidge. Prolonged cheering and much scampering for vantage points gave the usual placid and dignified surroundings a circuslike aspect. Nearly 50 movie cameras were lined up for the decoration ceremony.

The medals which the fliers received were inscribed for "extraordinary achievement" and "extraordinary skill".

Only a few persons were invited to the luncheon which President Coolidge tendered the trio. Present were the President, the German ambassador, the Irish minister, Secretary of State Kellogg, the flyers themselves, Secretary Sanders and the military and naval aides to the President.

In the case of George W. Watters against Roy W. Porter and Lawrence Bauder for damages growing out of an automobile accident on the New Castle-Ellwood road, which was tried before Judge Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

LOOKING BACKWARD

WE HAIL with delight the season in which outdoor life again becomes a pleasure but our satisfaction may be due not more to the greater comfort we enjoy than to a resurgence of the primal instinct handed down to us from our ancestors of thousands of years ago.

In these times we possess about the same bodily comfort in winter that is ours in summer. Our houses are heated to a point that the coldest weather brings slight annoyance. We store an abundance of food.

It was not so with our early forbears. Winter with them was both freezing and starving time. They hailed the spring as the time of release from cold and the coming of food in plenty. The desire of the child to play in the dirt, of the boy to go fishing and of the aged to return to his golf may be in response to the urge implanted in us through many generations of close clinging to what nature had to offer in support of mankind.

Primitive men lived close to the earth. In fact they lived in it, as caves testify. When the ice broke up of course they went fishing just as the boy of today prefers that to more modern methods of producing food. The children found delight in making mud pies and smearing themselves with dirt and the modern child exhibits his atavistic impulse in doing the same thing and finding pleasure in it. We like to go to the woods because we have not lost entirely the love for home surroundings of our savage ancestors.

The fun boys find in going swimming is not because that form of bath excels the efficiency of a bathtub. It may be due to the fact that their granddaddies thousands of years ago bathed that way because it was the only way and since they could do it only in summer it naturally was refreshing.

Through the ages man has done much toward prying himself loose from habits handed down to him through cycles of time but despite his apparent free agency he is tied to many phases of inherent action. Our greater enlightenment does not rid us of all superstitions. Neither are we able to shake off impulses that were common to men in the most remote periods. We may hold ourselves in restraint, but there are times when we would like to be savages. That feeling comes when spring invites to outdoors.

A MUSEUM CLAIMS THE SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS

COLONEL CHARLES A. LINDBERGH'S plane Spirit of St. Louis is not much more than a year old, but during that period it helped him attain unexampled fame and achieved a personality in the public mind such as has been given to no other airplane.

One might include also the great dirigibles in this comparison, for though their names are widely known, none ever reached the world renown of the Spirit of St. Louis.

It is fitting, indeed, that this inspired bit of machinery should become one of the Smithsonian Institution's aviation relics on exhibition in Washington, D. C. It has covered more than 40,000 miles, has crossed the United States many times, has been in every state in the union, in all the countries of Central America and several of the South American states, has cruised the Caribbean Islands, visited Canada and, of course, made the short tour of Western Europe which followed the wonderful transatlantic flight from New York to Paris on May 21 last year.

The ship is in perfect mechanical condition and Lindbergh said not long since that it should be good for possibly 200,000 miles; but its strenuous young pilot has given it hard and varied service during the past year and it is time that it was awarded honorable retirement while in prime condition reflects the Philadelphia Inquirer. The national colors of the countries which Lindbergh visited in the Spirit of St. Louis are painted on the body.

The partnership of "we" ended on Monday. Lindbergh has a new plane now, silver plated, fitted in rare woods and inviting admiration everywhere. Its luxurious appointments are a sharp contrast to the spartan simplicity of the accommodations in the Spirit of St. Louis. But who knows or cares to know the identity of the groomed and polished plane which has succeeded the storm-worn steed that was the inseparable companion of the world's splendid young air hero during the great year of his epic adventure?

In his application for a renewal of his pilot's transport license the other day Lindbergh declared he has flown 200,000 miles, has spent 2520 hours in the air, made 7800 flights and carried about as many passengers. His air mileage was very conservatively estimated on a speed rate of eighty miles an hour. Lindbergh seldom "loiters" at any such pace as that.

Something else that seems to be out of kilter in China is somebody's thermometer. An item says ice cream has been introduced in that country for the first time and that it was "warmly received."

We have absolutely no sympathy with this movement to banish the "hick" farmer from the movies. His money is as good as any one's.

A Minnesota professor says it is a fact that all of us are born tired, and of course many are reluctant thereafter to interfere in any way with nature.

Much of the trouble in political America is that the offices are not filled by the kind of men that will become marble statues and steel engravings.

Self-preservation became the first law of nature probably when the instinct to persecute was recognized as dominant in human beings.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:57. Sun rises tomorrow 4:56.

'Sfunny world. The colder you treat folks the hotter it makes 'em.

Personally we have not been worried much about there not being any good baseball weather but to tell the truth we have been worried about there not being much growing weather. Scarcity of things to eat this fall will be missed more than baseball winners.

Twenty-eight days are required to hatch the egg of a turkey. And almost twenty-eight dollars are required to buy the bird after it is hatched. Ask papa, he knows.

Dear Hints and Dints: In the good old days, "When we were young Maggie" and a young man called on his best girl it took quite a few minutes to hitch old Dobin to the o. t. hitching post; and if it happened to be in the winter time he had to be carefully blanketed.

But in these days of high speed the young man begins to honk his horn a block away from his sweetie's home and by the time he reaches the curb she is flying down the walk powdering her nose as she flies!

Oh well, perhaps they are no worse than they used to be only a little more bold about it.

I can remember once upon a time I painted my cheeks with a petal from an artificial flower I purloined from mother's hat; yes and I washed my face darn quick too, when mother beheld me in all my painted glory!

But you see we had the desire. Now there are no strings. And who can be sure but a wiser and better generation may not be the final outcome of the present day freedom! Excuse me I haven't been engaged to deliver a lecture on any subject. A. C. E.

The hardest job some New Castle ites have these days is to do without something they don't need.

One reason why so many people ask the question "is it fresh?" when buying candy is because they have been stung so many times in getting stale stuff when they thought they were buying fresh goods. They at least want the salesman to lie if nothing else.

We feel that we can trust any person who is deeply interested in hospitals. We mean of course those who put their money and time into them for their welfare and not those who try to get all they can out of the hospitals. Hospitals do more for humans than any other agency.

A reader wants to know how he can keep postage stamps from sticking together. The only absolutely sure fire method we can think of is to buy them one at a time.

SURCEASE.

Now comes a little span when farmers rest,
Before the new corn shows each pale green hill—
Before the rank weeds anchor choking roots
And fling their poison shade to blight and kill.

And horses out to pasture on a knoll
Show broad, white bands across the shoulders now,
Where sweat and froth beneath each harness strap
Gathered like seafoam as they dragged the plow.

The wood-thrush sees that work is laid aside,
And calls forth preludes from his golden horn
Knowing that man deserves a taste of joy
For routing hunger with a crop of corn.

Then we have with us always the yap who parks his car in the middle of a space where two cars could be parked.

"Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" A former millionaire coal operator at Uniontown, Pa., faces jail for life for stealing from the people. He only a few years ago was the largest coal owner in the world. He will sleep in the same kind of a cell as a common crook for stealing a chicken.

The following testimonial was given to an illiterate servant kirl who couldn't read it and thought it was fine:

"This is to certify that the bearer has been in my service for one year, less 11 months .During that time I found her to be diligent at the front door; temperate at her work; attentive to herself; prompt at excuses; amiable towards young tradesmen; faithful to policemen and honest when everything was under lock and key."

When men do things for which they don't even expect to be patted on the back for and then get kicked in a lower place it makes a difference in their opinions.

Custom is what makes a picture of an old-fashioned girl in pantalettes look so much more immodest than a picture of a modern girl that shows most of her legs.

A Chicago man kept his divorce from his wife a secret for five years and his wife never even suspected he was divorced and he was living with her right along. Heinz preserve us! Also help and assistance.

The old-fashioned girl used to think her best fellow was generous when he gave her a pound of candy for Christmas. Nowadays she expects at least a radio or an automobile.

Knew the Reason

Teacher was holding forth with reference to the circulation of the blood. Trying to make the matter clearer, he said:

"Now, boys,, if I stood on my head, the blood, as you know, would run into it, and I should turn red in the face."

"Yes, sir," chorused the pupils.

"Now," continued the teacher, "what I want to know is this: How is it that while I am standing upright in the ordinary position the blood doesn't run into my feet?"

"Why, sir," said the bright boy of the class, "it's because your feet ain't empty."

If only the automobile salesman like the driver, would hit you and run.

While an aviator was sailing through the air over Los Angeles a bullet pierced his foot. There has been quite a bit of complaint about low flying by aviators in this vicinity and the shot may be sort of a resentment of this practice. Anyhow, from our limited experience of being annoyed by low flying we would suspect this much.

There are people who now start out on a journey by taking a train at night and riding in an airship during the daytime. When we travel we are still going to stay on the train day and night.

HE'S A POOR PRUNE.

A coward boasting of his courage may deceive strangers but he is a laughing-stock to those who know him. —Phaedrus.

We never could understand why some people go around knocking, yapping and making a nuisance of themselves generally over something that does not cost them a cent, and which costs other people much, unless it is because they think some one else is doing what they would do if they got a chance. You hear them every day and you would not trust them with a penny.

Oscar Wilde wrote the following while in prison as a part of his remarkable ballad of Reading Gaol:

And every human heart that breaks
In prison cell or yard
Is as that broken box that gave
Its treasures to the Lord.
And filled the unclean leper's house
With the scent of costliest nard.

Ah! happy they whose heart can break
And peace of pardon win;
How else may man make straight his plan
And cleanse his soul from sin?
How else but through a broken heart
May Lord Christ enter in?

A law in congress now if passed will provide federal farms for dope addicts in this country. America is the first and only country to have such places. They don't even have them in China where the dope is made. Maybe the Chinks are like the old saloonkeeper who did not drink his stuff because it was made to sell and not to drink.

The ex-saloonkeepers admit themselves that they are still a power in politics.

A pretty actress playing in a comedy known as "Take The Air" in New York has eloped with a young millionaire. They ran away in an automobile instead of taking the air.

Dear Hints and Dints: Shakespeare said "Who steals my purse steals trash." He might have said:

A powder puff and some loose powder.
The rest of the ammunition.
A Bobbie comb.
Two and one-half sticks of chewing gum.
A pencil with no point.

A rather soiled letter.
A package of humps and a box of matches.

And twenty-nine cents.

We have noticed that the lawyers who are the dirtiest and meanest with their cross examing in witnesses in court are the most thin skinned themselves when not in court. You know the breed.

It's funny, but the hobble skirt was just as popular in it's day as the skirt that gives unrestricted freedom of the limbs now is.

Five political insurgents were killed in Mexico a few days ago. When they get hold of an insurgent in Mexico it's all off with him. In this country they elect him to office or they treat him courteously in some manner. They do some things in Mexico which we do not like but we sure do approve with some of their customs.

Mayor Walker and the German-Irish fliers were heard in Berlin and Dublin, as they exchanged politenesses in New York, 3,000 miles away. Radio has made the world small, and flying should make it friendly.

Those fliers will be able to tell Europe that this nation has put away bitter memories of the war.

The Italians with Nobile on his second trip to the North Pole are building in the Caproni shops, at Milan, what will be the biggest heavier-than-air ship ever constructed. All metal, it will carry six engines of 1,000 horsepower each. An autocracy has its advantages. It can encourage the individual and get things done.

Lady Mary Bailey landed in Cape Town Monday, having flown alone from London, a long journey from foggy Britain to hot South Africa.

Flying, which demands coolness, balance and courage, but no great physical strength, opens a new field to women.

"We" took their last flight Monday when Lindbergh flew to Washington and delivered the Spirit of St. Louis to the Smithsonian Institution.

The ship, built by the Wright brothers, first heavier than air machine that ever carried passengers, should be in the Smithsonian also, instead of being sent to Great Britain. However, it doesn't matter, the glory of achievement cannot be exported.

Religious faith gives consolation but sometimes it causes worry.

News from Morocco tells of two Moors guillotined for murder. They wept, showing intense distress and sorrow when told their heads were to be chopped off. Mohammed says a body with a head cut off can't enter paradise.

In the great Indian rebellion, when natives murdered many Englishmen, religion played its part. The rebellion, started when the natives were obliged to bite cartridges smeared with pig fat. Many of the guilty were executed by being fired from cannon, their bodies blown to pieces. In that condition they couldn't possibly carry out their after-death plans.

Christianity is kinder. It teaches that the dust of the grave and the biting of the worms do not prevent rising in the flesh, "as you were."

One hundred men, women and children found mummified in a cave in Mexico, are believed to have been buried alive. Contortions of the dried bodies showed acute suffering before death. Some mummies were tied together by their thumbs.

The dead may have been offered as sacrifices to some ancient Mexican god to placate a demon regulating earthquakes. The Chinese believe in an earth dragon and are careful not to disturb him. Mexicans came originally from Asia.

Among barbarous peoples as described by Reclus in his "Man and the Earth", sentencing the old to death when they became useless was a common practice. Old Eskimos were made to enter an ice hut, the entrance then blocked with ice and nature left to take her course.

We are more civilized and simply leave the old to worry in poverty or die slowly in a poorhouse when their useful days are over.

"To discourage vice, make it expensive!"

That was the old poker player's remark as he "raised". To discourage stock speculation the money powers make money expensive, and that plan works.

Yesterday "call money" went to six per cent, discouraging some. It did not, however, discourage the speculators in oil stocks. They went sailing up. The oil wagon is the vehicle of the hour.

Postmaster General New calls Hoover a true American, saying:

"No man has done more to demonstrate American intelligence and capacity."

The statement that Hoover "has leanings toward Great Britain" makes the British laugh. It was Hoover that first detected and exploded the British rubber trust that was to take hunrdeds of millions a year from the Yankees.

Britain notifies Egypt, nominally independent, but with several strings attached, that Egypt must obey Britain in big things. Egyptian claims to rule in Afghanistan are offensive to Britain, which pacified the Afghans. That's especially important, now that great Afghan gold fields are reported.

The British mean what they say and have ordered the Mediterranean fleet to proceed to Egypt, which will also be pacified, if necessary.

A STAIRWAY WITH TWO STEPS

Men climb two steps from infancy to old age.

They climb the steps How and Why.

The first is: How to live, how to get food, how to find shelter, how to protect life against enemies and accidents and disease; how to outwit fatigue and make living easier; these are the primal considerations of existence.

The first step leads to material advancement.

It results in firearms, plowshares, feather beds, steam heat, canned fruits, railroads and mousetraps.

It brought commerce, finance, Wall Street and Pittsburgh.

In the earliest days, when man was weak, it concerned itself largely with escaping enemies that lurked everywhere.

As he grew more powerful, man sought better food and shelter as well. Now he includes more and more in the answer, making life easier to live, more full of comforts, producing the same end with less expenditure of time and strength.

The second step is: Why live?

As soon as the first question, How live, has been answered and leisure and security result, men and races have turned to the great unanswered WHY of life.

The face of nature and the soul of man are marked with an unending series of whys.

Why are we as we are? What is the purpose of existence? Why go on living?

Religion, philosophy and poetry are born of pondering on this second question. It marks the advance of the spirit of man.

Long periods of peace and prosperity, when the necessity of think-

LEADERSHIP

People have more belief in centralized power, so long as that power is in the hands of competent leaders, than they do in the distributed power of the rank and file. They do not believe in pure democracy. The Russian government in the days when communist rule was first set up would have found it hard to create enough confidence to get a loan of any size from any foreign government. When the hands of a few confidence began to be created. Perhaps this is not as things would be but it is as things are.

Democracy can function effectively only as it breeds leadership—and as it breeds intelligence to follow that leadership.

UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT.

This newspaper makes it a rule never to print any communication unless the writer gives his name. It is also agreed upon request of the writer, if his offering is printable, that the public may be kept in ignorance of his identity. The following letter is signed all right by the writer in evident good faith, but the public can have all the guesses it pleases concerning the name. It is such a convincing argument concerning a momentous question and the original letter was so clearly written upon the author's typewriter, that it is reproduced and given the publicity which it merits:

"To the Editor:

"You seem to take a good deal of delight in telling other people how to live, and perhaps that is your business; but it seems to me that you exceed your duty, when you arrogate the right to reform all those who may happen to enjoy an occasional drink of Scotch.

"Last Christmas I was presented with a fine bottle of Scotch whiskey which I have kept untouched until now as I sit at my typewriter to indite this letter to you. It bears the label 'Sandy MacDonald'; a good, fair, well-bodied liquor which I am assured was bought before the war.

"I have just now tasted of this bottle of liquor, I will confide to you; and I cannot see where or how I am invading the rights of any person on earth. I find it excellent. It warms my stomach; it inspires my thought. I cannot feel, Mr. Editor, that I have wronged the community or added to the lawlessness of general society in doing so. It makes me tired to be classed as a criminal for any such reason.

"Just to show my independence of any such truck as you are writing, I have just taken another drink of the aforesaid most jubilant Sandy MacDonald and I will say to you that it is just about as smooth a drink as a man ever put into his system. The second drink I have now followed by a third.

"Now, Mr. Editor, I am no bum, and you can't make me out a bum. I like a little drink now and then and have just taken a third or maybe it was the fourth and I am more than ever convinced that any man who doesn't id a big idiott. C. B. D.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

I used to take great pride in expressing indignation. There was a time when I thought indignant notions were the only ones worth while expressing. I was lost 'n admiration of Brann, the Iconoclast, and the vast crop of professional indignators who followed in his wake. I thought it a fine thing to get shot for calling somebody names in print.

Somehow, I have lost my enthusiasm for indignation. I have read so much of this kind of literature (yes, and written so much of it!) that it has palled upon my taste.

Then, too, I have been looking about. I find that all my former indignation was justified, so far as I have been able to determine. Perhaps all the indignation of all the indignators has been justified by conditions. Yes, but coexistent with the conditions that justified the indignation were other conditions that the indignant ones utterly ignored.

* * * *

Upton Sinclair, for instance. Here is a fellow of talent. Perhaps he is even something of a genius. But he has devoted his entire life and all of his energy to indignation and protest. He has seen nothing to smile at since he put away his nursing bottle. He has never had time to note the essential kindliness of men and women, or the nobilty of spirit that is so common in even ordinary human beings.

It is essential for society that we have a few Upton Sinclairs. But how sad it must be to spend a lifetime crying out condemnation upon one's race and time!

I am now of the belief that indignation is the least important of all the human emotions that surge up for expression. It is true, each of us sees things and conditions every day that make us indignant or uncomfortable. But how many beautiful things we see each day! Which shall we talk about, the indignation or the recognition of beauty? Well I am inclined to let Upton Sinclair express my indignation, along with his own. I have found more important things to write and talk about.

Brookhart Takes Aim At Dawes' Candidacy

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
(Washington Correspondent of The News).

WASHINGTON, May 2.—A speech by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa is a good deal like a shot fired out of a gun.

Once started, there's no stopping it.

The man the shot's fired at may plead that Brookhart's entirely mistaken—he hasn't done anything to be shot for. Or he may argue that he's the wrong person. He may offer the best kind of an abili.

It's all one. If you're shot, you're shot—whether in error or otherwise.

Thus, Brookhart shot Vice President Dawes recently—with a speech, of course; not a bullet.

All the rest of us know that Dawes isn't a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. We're quite aware that Frank O. Lowden's his choice—that he, Dawes, isn't in the race—isn't an aspirant—doesn't want the nomination under any circumstances—unless, indeed, he can get it, somehow.

Yet, to everybody's consternation, what should his fellow-senators see Brookhart doing, the other day, but loading up his .45 with an attack on Dawes' presidential candidacy.

"For mercy's sake," cried Charley's friends, in horror, "don't shoot. That man's as innocent of a candidacy as a child unborn."

"Aw, heck," said Brookhart, shutting one eye—did he mean it as a contemptuous wink or was he squinting for a good aim—and fired deliberately.

The Iowa progressive's shot was in the nature of a charge that Dawes has presuaded his crowd, (his crowd—think of it!) tod delay senate action on the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill as long as possible, for his own political benefit.

According to Brookhart, Charley forsees that congress finally will pass the bill and President Coolidge will veto it.

Thereupon, the Iowan predicts, Dawes will denounce the veto in Hell-'n'-Maria terms, proclaim himself agriculture's champion, try to grab off the nomination while the farmers are still yelling for him, and make McNary-Haugenism his issue all through the campaign.

Brookhart's superiority over other senators, as a sharpshooter, lies mainly in his refusal to recognize any closed season for the game he's out to get.

Plenty of others have considered, for quite awhile, that Dawes ought to be shot at—as a candidate. So long, however, as he insisted that he wasn't one, they had a feeling that they were bound to take his word for it, no matter what their personal suspicions might be.

Brookhart has no such scruples. He bangs away at whatever he wants to hit. He's a champion marksman, too—wears medals for it.

The Hawkeye senator's lone slug probably didn't pierce the vice president through any vital organ, but it did do him this damage—

It ruined his protective coloring.

It was as a candidate that Brookhart shot him.

Wounded as one, folks naturally are going to take it for granted that that's what he is, unless he does something mighty convincing to prove that he isn't. And he can't do that. If he made it too darn convincing, he might cease to be one. Yet if he doesn't, now that Brookhart's started it, everybody'll shortly be taking pot shots at him.

"There ought to be a law" against such recklessness.

COUNCILMAN TYLER SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Making Progress In Battle With Disease; Hopes To Be Out Soon

"I may be down but I am not out and am not expecting to pass out either" said Walter V. Tyler, city councilman, when visited today by a News reporter. Tyler has been ill for ten weeks and while he is somewhat improved it will be some time before the councilman will be able to resume his duties at City hall.

The councilman was taken ill at city hall and spent several weeks at his residence. He returned to city hall and after spending a few weeks at his desk and at the city sewage disposal plant over which he has jurisdiction he was again taken ill.

Examinations show that the councilman has an enlarged liver that is pressing on the muscles of his heart and his digestion is poor. However, during the past few examinations his condition has improved and he is in utmost need of complete rest.

However, it is reported that the councilman is keeping in keen touch with city hall movements although his friends have advised him to cease thinking of his official duties and if such is possible, his return will be hastened.

When a News reporter visited the councilman today he found Mr. Tyler seated in a large leather chair with spirits high and a good color. He said that his physician had informed him that he was making steady progress.

Tyler said that warm weather having arrived he proposed taking a five minute stroll in front of his residence today although it taxes his strength completely to travel from the downstairs to the upstairs of his residence.

During the past week there have been reports that the councilman was in a serious condition.

When the reporter today informed the councilman of the report the councilman smiled from ear to ear and remarked: "You know what they say, only the good die young".

What Tyler would like to do is to be in condition to return to his desk and perform his official duties and be in such condition that he could greet his friends and citizens and perhaps visit the ball field.

With his general condition showing a good improvement, color in his face and his spirits high it will not be long, Mr. Tyler hopes as does his physician that he will be able to pay a visit to the city building.

May Registration In Country To Be Started On May 7

Does Not Apply To City Where The Personal Registration System Is Used

Registry books are being sent out by the county commissioners to registry assessors in boroughs and townships of Lawrence county, with which to begin the May registration. The work will start on May 7.

The registration applies only to the country districts and does not affect the city. In the country districts the registration is made by the assessors who go around and take the names of voters.

This is not necessary in the city where the voters go to the different polling places and register under the personal registration plan.

In the county the registration must be completed by May 28 when the original books are to be returned to the county commissioners office. Lists of the elegible voters must be posted at the different polling places.

On or before May 9th all candidates who sought nomination at the spring primary must file their expense accounts. If the amount expended is over $50, a detailed statement with receipts for the money spent must be filed. Blanks can be obtained at the county commissioners office. The accounts are filed at the prothonotary's office.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

ing of the first step is less imperative, are the times when most progress is made on this plane.

Warfare and poverty drive men's minds down to the first step. In fighting for existence little time is left for trying to understand what life is all about.

Perhaps the reason we have made more evident progress on the mechanical side is that the periods of peace and the times of continued prosperity have been relatively few.

The foundation of the house of life is answering the first question, How to live.

The edifice placed upon this foundation is the philosophy a man works out in answer to the second question, Why live?

When we say philosopher we think of an old man with whiskers and white hair and a wrinkled face, or some such person as Socrates or Aristotle. As a matter of fact, however, every man has some kind of philosophy, that is, he has some reason in the base of his mind and some theory that he accepts about why he is here and what he is to do while here.

Every man has a creed. If he believes there is no God that is quite as much a creed as if he believes in a God. A creed means what a man thinks and no man can think nothing.

A man's sanity and reasonableness depend largely upon his philosophy of life. Those whose philosophy is to look out for Number One are thoroughly selfish, while those who are interested in the welfare of others get more out of life.

Whatever can assist man on the way toward clearer thinking and sound reasoning helps strengthen the fabric of their days.

Tomorrow—Breakfast.

LAUGHTER

"I want laughter," said the man,
Life said: "Earn it if you can;
Those who chuckle have to be
Clean of hand and conscience free.
Those who win the world's delight
Work by day and sleep by night."

"I want pleasure," said the man,
Life said: "Earn it if you can.
I'm not giving joys away;
There's a price all men must pay.
No one till his work is done
Has a right to any fun.

"Dig the garden row by row,
Plant the seeds and watch them grow.
By and by the blooms will be
Lovely things for all to see.
So with laughter everywhere,
It is but the fruit of care.

"Work by day and sleep by night,
Do your best and keep the right,
And when this day's task is done,
No remorse will spoil your fun.
Here's the rule which must be learned,
Laughter comes when it is earned."

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

He meant that we need more good, straight service for less money.

One might say this country needs less standardization and more specialization—of a sort. A certain New York hotel has remodelled part of one floor to make rooms that are comfortable for tall men. Beds are eight feet long and sheets are plenty longer. Tall men can shave without getting down on their knees and take shower baths without bumping their heads. There ought to be more of that sort of thing in this country. Men ought not to have to pay the penalty of mischance. We have to conform enough as it is.

WE WONDER

We wonder at many things simply because we do not know the facts. We wonder at the atrocious crimes that are committed from time to time. We do not understand that people from birth are vastly different to say nothing of what environment does. Dr. A. A. Brill, New York university, is one of the great psychologists of the age. He says: "Some men are born with a total absence of feeling, just as some men are born without a sense of color. Men who commit certain crimes do it because they have no restraining emotions. They are of a hopeless criminal type and should be treated as defectives. No outright crime is ever committed by a normal man. It would be impossible."

THE THINGS THAT COUNT MOST—

In business are the things you cannot hire—loyalty, accuracy, dependability.

In religion are not doctrines, but character — sincerity, honesty, truth.

In a home are always without price—forgiveness, trust, love.

In education are not learned from books, industry, initiative, intelligence.

In success are available to every man—honor, self-respect, character.

In friendship are any man's privilege — Sympathy, confidence, trustworthiness.

In politics in the long run are uprightness, justice, unselfishness.

Declares Reports Of Divorce Are Untrue

(International News Service)

VIENNA, May 2.—Reports that Franz Molnar, Austria's best known playwright intends to divorce his third wife, Lylly Darvas, a beautiful actress, are not true, Molnar told International News Service today.

"Divorce is certainly popular nowadays and I must admit having had some experience with it, but I am out of practice and am satisfied with my married life" said the playwright.

Molnar is planning to visit the United States next autumn when two of his plays will be produced in New York.

Konjola Gave Her New Feelings Of Glorious Health

MRS. CLARA MAJORS
Seavy Photo

This Local Lady Tells How New Medicine Ended Rundown Condition of Entire System.

This surprising new medical compound, Konjola, is entering more homes in and around New Castle every day, until one out of every three families know about this celebrated medicine and reports are constantly being received from those who have been benefited by this famous remedy.

Konjola has produced permanent relief in thousands of cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowels disorders where the suffering had been going on for years. The action of this new herbal preparation has astounded the drug and medical trades of New Castle as well as the public in general.

Among the latest to publicly indorse Konjola is Mrs. Clara Majors, 1202 School street, this city. Mrs. Majors made the following statement to the Konjola Man who is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where hundreds of bottles of this medicine are being sold every week and where the Konjola Man is daily explaining how this compound reacts on the inner-system.

"Since taking Konjola I am free of every health trouble that I ever suffered from" said Mrs. Majors. "I am sure there is not a better medicine in the drug stores today to build up a completely rundown system.

"I have never been able to find out what made my condition so rundown. It seemed to me that the least exertion would completely tire me out. I steadily lost weight and was down to ninety pounds. All day long I would have awful backaches. Whenever I stooped over it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. I had no appetite and the food I did eat would not nourish me the way it should. My kidneys troubled me a great deal and I was subject to constant night rising. Of course, I could not sleep very well and in the morning I felt almost as tired as if I had not been to bed at all. Then my liver became sluggish and torpid. This caused me to have spells before my eyes and dizzy spells. It was very hard for me to do my housework and as I continued I got worse and was very discouraged.

"In this condition I began taking Konjola and the change that came over me was a great surprise to myself and my friends. Every day I could feel myself growing stronger and I began to take more interest in the things that went on around me. It seemed that every dose had a healing effect on my system. I began to gain in weight and before the first two bottles were gone I put on eight pounds. All the headaches and backaches completely disappeared, and have never returned. My appetite has increased and I can now enjoy a meal and know that I will get the proper nourishment from it. My liver and kidneys are normal and all the miseries from these organs have vanished.

"I will always give Konjola the highest praise and I am making this indorsement for the good it will do others."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Raising her child on common sense

HERE'S a baby that is being brought up in the way he should go, on a plain, sensible kind of rule. His mother learned it from her own experience before he was born. "Just keep your system in good working order", her doctor told her, "and you'll never have anything to worry about."

So, of course, when the baby came she made up her mind to follow that same plan with him. The doctor gave his hearty approval. "Go ahead and use Nujol", he said. "It's just the thing for the baby. Harmless. Safe. Contains no drugs or medicine. It's the most natural way in the world to keep everything normal. For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal.

Let me give you another suggestion, too. Use Nujol on the outside of the baby. In place of powder. Just swab his skin, after the bath, with a bit of cotton moistened with Nujol. That's the new method they're using in the big hospitals. It has a wonderfully soothing, softening effect on the skin. There's no need for any baby to have rashes and chafing if you use Nujol. Get a big bottle and keep it specially for the baby. Get a separate bottle for yourself."

Why don't you try Nujol in your household? It was perfected by Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey.)

Nujol can't do anyone—baby or grown-up—the least bit of harm. And so many people have found it beneficial. Be sure you get the genuine.

"Just the thing," said Doctor

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A SCARE AT DAWN

"Great Fly-Catchers! Who is that?" Mrs. Swift usually cheery voice trembled with fright. The nestlings chirped. "Ooh, ooh"! and hid their heads under their wings. But Father Swift made brave by fear, hopped upon the edge of the platform on which his nest was built, and peering down demanded in a voice as fierce as a Chimney Swift's voice could be:

"Who are you? Where are you? And what do you want to bother us for?"

"I am the two-legs who lives in the house and I am down here in the bottom of the chimney. I want to come up to find out how you live. Your cousin, Mrs. Nighthawk, said she wanted me to meet you! Oh perhaps I should never have thought of it." Peter answered all three questions without taking breath, and waited anxiously for the reply. Father and Mother Swift whispered together and then father called:

"All right, two-legs, come along. If Cousin Nighthawk told you to come it must be all right. Take care, though, and don't fall. If you are not used to climbing up a chimney it is rather rough work."

Whatever he may have thought about it up to that time, before he had gone very far Peter discovered that climbing up a chimney was no easy matter.

He felt like the frog in the well who climbed up one foot and fell back two. But at last, out of breath and with knees and knuckles that ached from the skinning they had received,

"IF YOU ARE NOT USED TO CLIMBING UP A CHIMNEY IT IS HARD" CALLED FATHER SWIFT

Peter stood safe and sound upon the ledge where the Swifts lived.

"Hello, every one," said Peter. "It was rough work, Father Swift, and I don't believe I shall ever try climbing up here again, but now that I am up, I am happy. What a comfortable apartment you have!"

Next—"Housekeeping in a Chimney."

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To New Castle News

NEW YORK, May 2.—A reader of this column writes: "I am moving to New York. I have a pet dog, a big Airedale, I dearly love, and I would like to take him with me. But many persons say that New York is no place for dogs; that it would be cruel to take a country dog to a place where he won't be able to stretch his legs as much as he likes; that only lapdogs are happy in New York."

I don't know whether they're happy or not, but there are more than 200,000 licensed dogs in New York City. Approximately one out of every six families has a canine pal, a contrast with the situation in Hazard, Ky., where every family has six dogs.

I think she may safely bring her dog to the city. Of course, she can't let him run at large. But there are parks and drives upon which she may lead him, and if he is amenable to her orders, she may let him have his head freely when they are together on the streets in the evening.

What do you want to know about New York? Address C. K., News Bureau, 2200 Times building, New York, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

If she lives in the suburbs, the dog can have as much freedom as he is accustomed to in a small city.

They have them in nearly all cities, at regular intervals, but in New York the auctions of unclaimed postal matter, held in a hall of the main postoffice, are especially interesting. For from 25 cents to $5, after a semblance of bidding, the auctioneers have over to excited buyers, packages containing such articles as toy snakes, maps, rubber baby pants, holy water, Ghurki knives, red-Indian arrowheads, 100 women's hats in one lot, corsets, preserves, cartons of smelling salts, old shoes, wedding rings.

About all of the worn, dust-laden packages there seems to cling a dramatic story. Somewhere, of course, are women awaiting those little packages that contained wedding rings.

Seasickness has no terrors for Dr. Philip G. Peabody, 72, of Boston, who is perhaps the world's champion non-professional ocean traveler. The Freethinkers of America, of which he is an officer, gave him a luncheon the other day and then saw him off on his 113th trip across the Atlantic.

"I never tire of travel, and I have no intention of retiring," he told me.

He has been traveling for pleasure more or less continually for 36 years. This time he is going to revisit European countries, and he hopes to see Russia which he has been in 16 times, after an interval of 10 years. Russia is the place he likes best to visit.

He doesn't know any sure cure for seasickness, he avers. He isn't bothered himself, as may be guessed from his fondness for ocean voyages.

Dramatic Society Players Achieve Local Triumph

"In Hot Tamale Land" Is Well Presented By St. Margaret's Dramatic Society

PARTS PORTRAYED IN FINE FASHION

Lion hearted bull fighters mingled with dark eyed senoritas Tuesday evening when St. Margaret's Dramatic Society presented a musical comedy entitled, "In Hot Tamale Land" in the Senior High School. Coached and acted by local people, and sponsored by a local organization "In Hot Tamale Land" was a very clever demonstration of what can be done by the talented young men and women of this city. It was musical, it was funny, it was well staged and well costumed, and the members of the cast were entirely foreign to any suggestion of stage frightened amateurishness.

The plot is about as heavy as any musical comedy plot. A poor boy wants to marry the daughter of a pickle king, they all go to Hot Tamale Land where the king declares the boy must have $10,000.00 before he can marry his daughter. An untamable bull is to be fought for a prize of $10,000 and the boy decides to take the chance. A walking delegate stops the fight and a funeral at the same time, and everything ends as you would have it end.

Leads Good

The cast was all good, but the leads deserve an extra line or two. Francis Morrisey and Anna Lyden, as the boy and the daughter of the pickle king put their work over in splendid style, and with them the other leads.

You would have enjoyed Hughey Hannon and his antics, or Thomas J. Cunningham in his ridiculous make-up. Others of the leads were Ed Logue, Thomas Flanagan, John McIntyre, Hannah Evans, Mamie McAuley, Margaret Flanagan, Leo Reig, William Carlin and Thomas O'Neil. Some solo dancing by Cecelia McCoy, a special feature was indeed a feature of the program.

The cast was chosen from the young people of St. Mary's and St. Margaret's churches. Rev. P. J. McKenna directed the dramatic efforts and his work was productive of some splendid results. The music was in charge of Rev. F. S. Clifford and Steve Griffith, and the stage directors were Steve Gulinski and Joseph Graham.

Following is the entire cast:

Ezra McWhackle, a pickle king, Thomas J. Cunningham.

Bobby Hunter, honest but poor, Francis Morrisey.

Ned Barlow, Bobby's friend, Thomas Flanagan.

Don Soda DiPoppo, ruler of Hot Tamale Land, Hugh Hannon.

Punko Dero, walking delegate of the Bull Fighters Union, John McIntyre.

Eleanor, Ezra's daughter, in love with Bobby Hunter, Anna C. Lyden.

Agatha Fidger, Eleanor's aunt and chaperon, Hannah Evans.

Dolores, daughter of Don Soda DiPoppo, Mamie McAuley.

Jaunita, a shy senorita, Margaret Flanagan.

Herald, Leo Reig.

Pages, William Carlin, Thomas O'Neil.

Solo dancer, Cecelia McCoy.

CLINGING BOOTS PLAGUE FLYER; CAN'T LOSE 'EM

Major James Fitzmaurice and the offending boots.

By CLARK KINNAIRD.
Staff Correspondent for Central Press And New Castle News.

Boots, BOOTS, BOOTS, Up and down again.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Kipling's maddening lines are running through Major James Fitzmaurice's mind.

"The damned things!" The trans-Atlantic flyer smiled. "When I brought them along I didn't think I'd have to wear them—alive—two weeks!"

This is an explanation of why all of the pictures of the Irish aviator taken from the time he landed on Greenely Isle until he was formally welcomed to New York, 16 days later show him wearing hip boots which sound, when he walks, like they look.

The flyers carried their wardrobes on their backs on the first westward flight of an airplane. At Greenly, at Seven Islands, at Lake St. Anne, at Quebec, there was no chance for the major to obtain shoes and puttees to accompany his uniform. He lived in his rubber boots.

Any farmer or worker who has had to wear gum boots for two or three days knows how they hurt the feet also how they make them perspire. The major had to wear his 18 days!

He landed in New York with them, rode in them in a private car to Washington, attended the Bennett memorial ceremonies in them, came back to New York in them, was shamed by the ultra-sartorial Mayor Walker at the informal welcoming ceremonies in Pennsylvania station in them, dined in them.

The major wore into the Ritz-Carlton hotel the only pair of gum boots ever seen there. Bystanders were shocked. In his room with a bit of privacy at last the major was reminded for the thousandth time by his aching dogs of the d——boots! But it was late Saturday night and shoe stores were closed.

So Sunday the hero showed himself a greater hero than ever by wearing the boots to church. He also wore them to meet Patrick Cardinal Hayes archbishop of New York. And to dinner with noted dignitaries.

Thats why the major can't forget Kipling's maddening lines:

Boots, BOOTS, BOOTS, Up and down again.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELEN E RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

THE EYES AS A HEALTH BAROMETER

Each part of the body is a working unit of the harmonious whole. Each part, in its function and its organism, bears a direct relationship, through the media of thousands of little nerves, to all the rest of the body. The eye, which has been called the window of the soul, has another less poetical, but none the less true interpretation.

It is the lighthouse of your health. It flashes the danger signals, the warnings of stormy times ahead, and it also, through the mechanical reaction, announces the presence of trouble in the human frame.

A prominent physician once made the very interesting notation which helped to place the eye as a diagnosis media. An owl had attached itself to his finger, and in pulling him away the physician had dislocated the bird's leg.

He happened to be looking directly at the owl's eyes during the time, and watched a black mark appear, at the moment of dislocation, in the lower central part of the eyes. Afterward, while setting the owl's leg, and throughout the healing period, he watched that part become just gray, covered with a film, and finally, as the bird ended his convalescence, it became quite normal again.

The physician found, through his careful watching and experiment, that different injuries to foot and leg were indicated always on the one particular part of the eye, and he, and others who followed the line of investigation, worked out a chart singularly accurate and reliable, pointing out how troubles in different limbs and organs are all represented in different parts of the eye.

Nor is it alone in the "spots" that the eye betrays your health, or lack of it. Texture, too, is a trustworthy barometer. When the eye appear almost compact in texture it is a sign of vitality and strength. When they become opaque, frayed and uneven on the surface, they betray weakness.

Color, too, is an accurate means of judging physical condition. The eye of a perfectly healthy person is somewhat lighter in color than that of a less fortunate individual. This does not mean that the blue-eyed individual is healthier than her brown-eyed sister, but that the normal shade, either black, blue, hazel or brown, will be of a lighter shade in the healthy person. The user of drugs can be recognized and convicted on the evidence of his eyes. Even comparatively harmless ones have their sign by color marks clearly visible on the outer rim—different colors evidencing different drugs. The pupils, too, contract and expand, not only from the effect of outside lighting, but from inside well being, too.

To the layman there are certain easily detected signs which are universally known and recognized.

No one fails to see the signs of cold. In fever, eyes are hard and bright like brittle stones, shining much too vividly for the compact of the watchers. In the East the color of the eyes fade, not only from the intense heat of tropical suns, but through the gradual thinning out of blood and pigment. Anaemia and undernourishment show themselves in the pale inner circles surrounding the eyes. A little study and observation will teach you to estimate your eye correctly as an unfailing barometer of health. And this is only the first of its claims upon your attention.

"Pressing the button will make the race soft." It doesn't affect Dempsey that way.

It is worth noting, also, that very few of the big jobs are held by men who like to carry three fountain pens in a vest pocket.

California Gives Hoover And Smith Primary Support

Herbert Hoover And Governor Al Smith Carry California Primary Vote

SMITH ASSURED 26 MORE VOTES

Senator Reed Of Missouri Runs Second; Walsh 3 To 1 Behind In Poor Showing

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for the presidency, received a handsome vote from the "home folks" yesterday, according to figures tabulated today on the outcome of the primary held in the Golden State.

Almost as convincing as the support given Hoover, was the vote extended Governor Al Smith, Democrat of New York State. Smith will enter the Houston convention almost assured of the 26 California delegate votes.

Senator Reed of Missouri was not overlooked by the voters and ran second to the New York State governor, with 43,016 votes. Senator Walsh of Montana was a poor third with 33,753. Smith's vote was 111,027 from the returns already counted.

Governor Smith ran true to form in California. The McAdoo dry forces were routed from their stronghold in Southern California territory with Smith polling 26,290 in Los Angeles County against 17,640 for Reed and 12,710 for Walsh.

San Francisco piled up a big vote for Smith, with an estimated lead of 20,000 over his competitors. Reed was second in San Francisco. Walsh's vote here was almost negligible.

Even in Los Angeles and the downstate "dry" counties, Gov. Smith is running far ahead.

Incomplete returns from approximately 3,500 state precincts out of 8753 give Smith 60,810; Reed 25,948; Walsh 17,478.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, unopposed on the Republican ticket, polled a heavy vote which has already passed the 270,000 mark.

In spite of the fact that the delegation to the Kansas City National Convention was already pledged to support Hoover, Republicans poured out to the polls to express their approval of his candidacy.

Out of a total of 8,753 precincts, tabulation of the votes in 6,660 gave Smith a plurality of 28, 515 ballots over his two opponents for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The vote in this number of precincts gave Smith, 111,265; Reed 47,282; Walsh, 35,372.

Rev. A. C. Locke, of Dubois, Pa., a former Lawrence county boy, has just been appointed superintendent of the Erie district of the Methodist conference, according to a letter received by Prothonotary R. M. Campbell this morning.

Coal Official Says United Miners Are Behind Lawlessness

Horace F. Baker, President Of Pittsburgh Terminal Coal, Issues Deposition

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 2.—Horace F. Baker, president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, charged that officials of the United Mine Workers of America sponsored lawlessness and violence responsible for the turmoil in the bituminous coal regions of western Pennsylvania, in a detailed statement made public here today.

Baker's charges, contained in a 23-page deposition sent to the senate committee investigating the strike situation, contain an allegation that "since April 1, 1927, our operations have been one continuous story of abuse, sabotage and disorder of every kind inflicted upon the company and its employes."

Baker revealed that the Terminal Corporation, which has operated on a non-union basis since the expiration of the Jacksonville agreement, has spent $200,000 for maintaining coal and iron police at its workings since the bituminous strike was called last year.

Police Necessary.

"What is spent and has been spent for police is and has been largely the direct result of hostilities of the union and it will be necessary for the company to continue such police until such hostilities cease," Baker said.

In defending the company's action ousting union miners from company owned houses, Baker said that legal steps taken by the union to delay the evictions "has been the most effective weapon used by the union against us in this strike. The union's causing these houses to be withheld has cost us many tens of thousands of dollars."

Baker said that contrary to the general impression, only seven tenants have been evicted from company owned houses since the strike was called. Others vacated voluntarily, he said.

The statement was presented to the senate committee in lieu of Baker's personal appearance to testify in Washington.

First Circus Here May 16

Hagenback-Wallace Advance Men Arrive In City This Morning

Spring's official emissary appeared in New Castle today along with the soft breezes and a desire to take a sneak from the office to follow that call back to nature, that seems to get one each year about Maytime.

This emissary was in the form of the large advertising car of the first circus of the season, announcing the coming of Hagenback Wallace Circus to New Castle on May 16.

Fred Moulton, press representative was very enthusiastic in his praise of this years production, saying that, "the circus this year is their best, running true to the reputation that Hagenback Wallace have for a splendid performance, especially trained wild animals.

From Moulton's data, it was learned, that the circus is replete with many novel features, all of the foreign countries have supplied beasts and brutes for the menagerie, as well as for the sensational displays by Clyde Beatty, the youthful American trainer and Captain Berenardo, the Italian. Fair equestriennes and pretty horses are many, the outstanding riding act being the Orrin Davenport Troupe, one of the few American families of riders. Beauty predominates, as the different aerial acts prove, and no aerialists can compare with the Ward Family of Flyers, a big hit this year. Of course many clowns are there with their ever funny stunts. The big feature is the opening spectacle, one of the most beautiful and georgeous seen in circusdom, it is entitled "the Geisha", a love story of the "The Land of Cherry Blossoms", and oriental extravaganza, with over 1000 human and animal actors.

As a courtesy to a large motion picture producer, the circus has consented to their taking pictures of the circus and the circus crowd and should you wish to be seen at the Penn Theatre on the screen, be on the circus "lot" from eleven o'clock in the morning until two in the afternoon, when they are engaged in the making of this picture, and it will be a little more than interesting.

A down-town ticket office will be established for the convenience of those who wish to purchase tickets before going to the grounds.

Hagenback Wallace Circus will be in New Castle early Wednesday morning, May 16, for both afternoon and evening shows on the circus grounds at Cedar and Mahoning.

Pittsburgh Area Bishop Charged Also With Maladministration

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 2.—Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Pittsburgh area has been formally charged with "immorality" and with maladministration, it was revealed at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, today, in quadrennial session here.

The maladministration charges are in connection with two cases submitted to the annual Pennsylvania area conference last year, and the charge of immorality is based on Bishop McConnell's alleged indorsement of the theory of evolution published by the American Civil Liberties union in January 1927.

The charges were filed by Rev. George A. Cooks of Wilmington, Del.

The immorality charge deals entirely with violations of the church dogma and doctrines, and contains no element of moral turpitude.

Farm Relief Measure Affects City Folks, Too!

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Let not the city feller fondly fancy that farm relief means nothing in his young life.

It does, two ways.

The farmer wants more money. From whose jeans does the city chap suppose it'll have to come, but his'n—if anybody's.

Yet the city dweller can't let agriculture go broke. It's axiomatic that no city can stay prosperous for very long, if the country all 'round-about it is hard up.

So it behooves us urbanites to devote some study to this plan we hear so much about, to improve the lot of our rural brethern.

The relief plan referred to is the McNary-Haugen plan.

It isn't the only plan suggested, but it's the principal one. It's the one congress has partly passed already, and that they say President Coolidge means to veto. It'll come up again later, even if he does.

It's an interesting thing, whether you believe in it or not.

Hhe McNary-Haugen plan aims to apply the protective principle to agriculture.

This isn't as easy as it sounds.

What our manufacturers and industrial workers are afraid of is foreign competition. We bar this out—by means of a high tariff on imported manufacturers—by means of stiff restriction on cheap immigration.

Protected thus, our manufacturers and workingmen are able to keep their prices up—for their goods and for their labor.

Foreign competition isn't what bothers our farmers. They're competitors among themselves. Their grief is that they over-produce here at home, and consequently can't market their stuff—because there's too much of it—at decent figures.

The nub of the McNary-Haugen plan is to have the government pool all our crops and refuse to sell any part of them to American consumers except at a satisfactory profit for the farmers—a profit in proportion to the manufacturers' profits, and labors' wages.

Of course a surplus will be left. That will have to be unloaded abroad for whatever it will bring—but not here in the United States. Americans, at any rate, will have to pay more—to help the farmers out.

Anyway, that's the theory.

It's supposed to be the protective principle, in reverse—for agriculture's benefit.

It's funny how our statesmen line up on the scheme.

It's conceived in the purest spirit of protection—there can't be any doubt about that. Yet, from the White House, the ultra-protectionistic President Coolidge denounces it as "uneconomic."

It's enough to make the late free trade apostle, Thomas Jefferson, holler bloody murder in his grave. Yet, in congress, we find the Democratic—hence historically anti-high tariff—followers of Al Smith giving it their heartiest okeh, and their votes, and promising to pass it over the president's veto, if they can.

Which it's hard to observe and not reach the conclusion that party politics is all bunk—on both sides.

Shipping Board Causes Stir In Marine Circles

Rejection Of Proposed Four-Day European Trip May Involve Controversy

CONGRESS "SOLD" ON NEW IDEA

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The U. S. Shipping Board's summary rejection of the proposed four-day, New York to Europe ship and airplane scheme today threatened to involve congress in a bitter controversy on the eve of consideration of the Jones-White merchant marine bill.

Backers of the bill expressed the fear that the action has "thrown a wrench" into the plans to restore the American merchant marine to its former high position, since virtually no opposition had hitherto appeared to the Jones-White measure.

Many congressmen have been "sold" on the idea of four-day liners to Europe—cutting the running time of big ships two days and using airplanes to speed the way of both passengers and mails—also entered their protest.

The shipping board's action, it was learned was made the subject of a secret meeting of the house merchant marine committee.

Flier Fails In Record Effort

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 2.—Flying alone, Lieut. Royal V. Thomas failed today in an attempt to establish a new world endurance flight record. He took off at 10:07 a. m., in a single motor Bellanca monoplane but encountered trouble within a short time and was forced to descend, making a safe landing not far from where he hopped off.

Thomas found that his plane, which carried 535 gallons of gasoline, was too heavily laden. He couldn't make sufficient altitude to clear hills in the vicinity of the field so he started dumping gasoline. He quickly decided it was advisable to come down, and he did.

"I'll take off again this afternoon if I can get the plane refueled," he said.

The world's record, fifty-three hours, thirty-six minutes and thirty seconds, is held by Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman.

Starts Again

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., May 2.—Lieut. Royal V. Thomas, flying alone in a single-motor Bellanca monoplane, took off at 12:29 this afternoon in a second attempt to break the world's endurance flight record of 53 hours, 36 hours and 30 seconds held by Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman.

Thomas hopped off at 10:07 this morning but his heavy plane could not make altitude and he was forced down. Undaunted he had the plane re-fueled and took off again this afternoon.

City Fireman Hurt Responding To Fire

Duke Byers, of East street, widely known city fireman, is confined to his home by the injuries sustained Monday midnight, when in the act of responding to the alarm in the Wallace Heirs building on the public square. As he was hurriedly rushing to the pole from the bedroom of the firemen to the first floor of the Central Fire station where the apparatus is kept, he tripped in some manner and was precipitated into the hole about the pole, being wedged in that place and unable to move. He was assisted out of his predicament and it was found that he was injuried about the knee and leg in such a manner as to be unable to attend the fire. He has been confined to his home since and is doing as well as could be expected.

Wilmer Hawk, member of the force at the Central Fire station, has returned to duty after being sick for about a week.

Dirigible Held Back By Weather, Storm Is Raging

Dirigible Italia Fails To Take Air On Second Leg Of Journey, Await Good Weather

(International News Service)

STOLP, Germany, May 2.—Reports of a raging storm of cyclonic proportions over Northern Norway and Spitzbergen caused a last moment postponement today of the scheduled departure of the dirigible Italia on the second leg of his polar flight.

General Umberto Nobile announced the postponement after carefully scanning the weather reports today. All preparations had been made for the huge airship's flight when the postponement was announced.

It was thought probable here that the dirigible would be able to leave early tomorrow. The Italia is bound for King's Bay Spitzbergen with a short intermediate stop at Vadsoe, Norway for refuelling.

The Italia came here from Milan, Italy, after a tumultuous 30 hour battle with the elements: Nobile will use Spitzbergen as a base from which he will carry on his explorations of the polar wastes.

Building A Good Name

The man who builds, if he is wise builds solidly.

We who sell petroleum products, and service motor cars have nothing to build but reputation.

We are building that as solidly as we know how.

We never expect to be through, for there is no limit to reputation.

We are believers that the best reputation is built in homely things, such every day virtues as: Cordiality, Cheerfulness, Willingness, Understanding, Common Sense, Alertness, Promptness, Thoroughness, and the like.

Such may not be the qualities you are thinking of when you drive in for service.

But if you find them in the organization that sells you motor fuel, and oils, you may expect better service.

We desire to build our business with these homely virtues, may we have the pleasure of serving you.

Water Co. Superintendent Writes Winning Essay

In the current issue of "Water", the publication of the American Water Works & Electric company, is published a prize essay which was written by H. B. Richards, superintendent of the New Castle Water company, some months ago in a competition that extended to many cities where there are employes of the corporation.

The essay written by Mr. Richards was awarded third place in the entire competition. The idea behind the essays was to bring out the service of the company to the public, the theme of the essay being "What Should My Company Mean to the Public?" Mr. Richards did not write the essay with the expectation of receiving one of the awards, but rather as an expression of his ideas on the subject, but it was so good that the judges added an extra award when the prizes were given out, in order to include his contribution.

Here is Mr. Richards' prize winning essay:

You ask, "What should my company mean to the public?" Well, before an intelligent reply could be made to that question, it would first be necessary to search myself, and determine just what my company meant to me. It would not make any difference whether I were the meter reader, the cashier or the superintendent of the plant, the reaction of the part of the public with whom I come in contact would be but the reflection of my own personal attitude toward my company.

If my company means to me just a medium for an existence, or perhaps, an institution doing a necessary, but interesting business, in a more or less uninteresting way, you might with profit go no farther, because you could bank on it being a fact, that the public's attitude would be that my company was a more or less indifferent concern, doing business in a more or less indifferent way.

But on the other hand, if I were sold on my own company—believed in it—knew right down in my heart that it was rendering a worth while service in a worth while way, it would go without saying that the public with whom I come in contact would absorb a part at least, of my enthusiasm. It would determine that my company was an essential and welcome element in the community which we serve.

In the effort to build up good public relations, it has been observed that in some concerns, too little thought is given to the internal relations within the organization. That is to say, if the different individuals, or the different departments in my organization, are not so coordinated as to work in harmony, it is inevitable that such discord will be evident in the otherwise serene front with which the public is met. But if the fireman and the engineer, and the meter reader and the inspector, and the foreman and the office girl are happy in their jobs, and feel that they are working with the best concern in the world, you can bet your bottom dollar that the public will know that your company is a good company. And believe me, it is a fine thing to know that the public thinks enough of your company to point to it with pride. It is one of the satisfying compensations in the job you fill.

The thought occurs to me also, that when the superintendent gets out on the job, and he is the kind of man to whom the man in the ditch looks up with a smile and says: "Good morning, Mr. Boss," it is not too much to suppose that a little later when he walks down the street, the public will also smile and say: "Good morning, Mr. Superintendent."

There is a romance in every business—if you can find it. One man fires a boiler, and to him it means only shoveling in the coal and raking out the ashes. But his partner on the next watch will see a vision in the coal pile, as some unseen master hand paints for him a panorama of the mining operations, and visualizes for him the countless thousands who toil and have their being because of coal. To him the coal pile is a gigantic thing, harnessed to do his will. And as he tosses it into the furnace, in the flames he sees the wheels of industry turning. He sees perhaps, happy homes lit by the incandescent light, or pictures mothers no longer worn out with household tasks, from which electricity has removed the drudgery.

Or else his fancy traces for him, on the canvas of the past, memories of some typhoid scourge, now no longer a menace. And as he listens to the throb of the pumps in the engine room next door, whose pulsations are sending city wide, clear water, safe and pure, his mind brings back to him recollections of the old pump handle in the yard, the carrying in of water from the spring, or the Saturday night bath in the wash tub by the kitchen stove. And his heart beats with justifiable pride, at being a part of something worth while.

Great Highway To Connect Oceans Is Plan In Congress

Illinois Representatives Sponsors Bill For Trans-Continental Highway

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—A great highway, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is contemplated under a bill placed before congress by Rep. Rathbone (R) of Illinois.

Proposing creation of a commission to investigate the project and report to congress, Rathbone declared that the proposed trans-continental highway is the logical result of the country's growth.

"This great highway would be a band across the continent which would promote the unity of all sections of the country," said Rathbone. "It would be a bond of union. People who visit each other, come to know each other, to understand each other and then to cooperate with each other."

Careless Washing Spoils the Hair

If you want beautiful hair, ordinary old time methods of washing will not do. To bring out the real beauty, the hair must be shampooed properly.

Proper shampooing is what makes it soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Variety Program Concludes Season

Quartette And Impersonator Present Arts Society Number Tuesday

The Educational Art Society closed its season Tuesday evening in the Scottish Rite Cathedral with a variety program. Listed among the numbers were Gaylord Yost, violinist; James Woodside, baritone; Sidney Landon, impersonator; Earl Truxell, accompanist, and the Yost string quartet, composed of Gaylord Yost, violinist, Roy Shumaker, second violin, Carl Rosenberg, viola, and James Youngder, cello.

The program opened with a film comedy, then a group of numbers by the quartet. Their work was good, and Mr. Yost showed to better advantage as the first violinist of the quartet than he did as a soloist.

James Woodside, baritone, presented a group of numbers, accompanied by Earl Truxell. Perhaps the feature of the evening was the work of Sidney Landon, impersonator, who depicted Mark Twain, Bill Nye and Edgar Allen Poe.

Mr. Landon is gifted in this field and does his make-up as he carries on his descriptive lecture of the man whom he impersonates. This number drew much applause.

The program Tuesday evening was the closing one of this season's Educational Art Society. Through the efforts of this organization much has been added to the educational and entertainment life of the city in the past months. Arrangements are under way for the coming season.

Meet Tonight To Consider Plan

Civic Music Association Plan To Be Enfolded at Meeting

NEW IDEA GIVEN FOR CONCERTS HERE

Those citizens of New Castle who are interested in the advancement of music in the city, will meet tonight, May 2, at eight o'clock, in the East lodge room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, for the purpose of forming a Civic Music Association, to displace the old Educational Arts society, announces Herbert Pearls, manager of the cathedral.

The plan of the new association will be presented by J. L. McGriff, of Chicago, who, for six years, has been organizing associations throughout the United States. At the present time, there are 127 of these organizations in the country. Murrow D. Wells, president of the Educational Arts society and president of the Paul Browne Patterson Festival Chorus, also will speak.

As outlined by Mr. McGriff this morning, the plan for the Civic Music association is simple. If the idea meets with the group of representative citizens who meet in the cathedral Wednesday night, a membership campaign will be put on. A membership card will act as a ticket at the door. After the membership campaign is over, no more will be admitted, no single admissions to any one concert be sold.

From the money which is raised during the membership campaign, a fund will be established. Out of this money, talent will be secured, thus abolishing the necessity for a patron list.

All of the citizens of New Castle who are interested in better civic music are asked to attend the meeting Wednesday night.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Claims It Ended Her Stomach And Liver Trouble

Local Lady's Health Troubles Vanish When She Uses Famous Ten Herbs.

"Three bottles of Ten Herbs gave me complete relief from stomach and liver disorders," was the statement of Mrs. J. H. Griffith, 716 Croton Avenue, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this celebrated natural medicine.

MRS. J. H. GRIFFITH

"For some time I had been troubled with my stomach," Mrs. Griffith continued. "I would be in misery as soon as I arose from the table, and sometimes the gas on my stomach would be terrible. My liver was out of order, causing me to have dark spots in front of my eyes. I frequently had drowsy spells, and my nerves troubled me. At times, my eyes were very weak. Quite often my heart would flutter—sometimes I was afraid to walk across the room and could hardly do my work. My complexion was very sallow from time to time.

"I read in the newspapers about Ten Herbs and decided to try your medicine. It ended my health troubles. I now enjoy my meals, as my stomach is in good condition and is free of gas. My liver is active again, and I do not have any more dizzy spells or dark spots before my eyes. My heart no longer flutters, and my eyes are stronger. I have clearer complexion, and can do my housework without getting tired. I am so well pleased with Ten Herbs that I do not hesitate to recommend it to the public."

Ten Herbs is proving a sensation in this city. More and more persons from this section are coming forward with statements of praise for this great natural medicine and vouching for its unusual merit in benefiting and invigorating sluggish stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Every claim made for Ten Herbs is backed by a mass of evidence on file. One of the reasons for its remarkable success is its surprising effect on the entire human system, usually making one feel better in every way.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Fail To Recover Six Drowned As Skiff Overturns

School Teacher, Holder Of Carnegie Medal, Is Among Drowning Victims

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 2.—The turbulent Monongahela river, where Miss Cennis Gaddis, 20, of Alicia saved three lives in as many years, today held her body with those of five others who were plunged into the river when a ferry skiff overturned at Masontown, near here and drowned.

Miss Gaddis was drowned after she succeeded in saving the life of her sister Agnes, 13, by stripping from the younger girl a heavy coat which impeded her struggle against the sweeping current.

Five negroes, including a mother and her two children and an unidentified man and boy were the other victims.

Miss Gaddis was awarded a Carnegie Hero Medal for saving two persons from drowning in August, 1925. It was thought that a heavy fur coat which she was wearing hampered her struggles when the skiff overturned, and that she exhausted all her strength in aiding her sister.

A negro passenger who leaped from the skiff to a flatboat as the skiff docked was believed to have overturned the frail craft. Two passengers, including the ferryman, escaped.

Plasterers Work At New School

Brick Layers Soon To Complete Work On George Washington Junior High School

Work on the new George Washington Junior High school, being erected at the corner of Mercer street and Euclid avenue, is advancing rapidly at the present time, and from all appearances should be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term of school this year.

Plasterers are at work in the rooms of the side wings of the building this week and will soon be able to commence plastering the rooms in the main section. Workmen are also grading the ground to the rear of the building and will have this work completed in a few weeks.

According to the foreman in charge of the construction work, work on the building has been progressing through the bad weather spells which have been present around this locality at different times.

The new high school will have several outstanding features in its equipment, aside from the 35 classrooms which will be available. There will be a large gymnasium, a swimming pool, a spacious cafeteria, model living and dining rooms for the students, an auditorium with a seating capacity of approximately 1,500 persons, an activity room, a large library and a manual training department.

There will also be special rooms for typewriting and other commercial subjects, as well as rooms for other subjects, such as art.

The two side sections of the building will be two stories in height, while the main division will be three stories high. The brickwork on the side wings has been completed, but it will probably be two weeks before the workmen have completed laying brick in the walls of the building proper.

Four Start To Serve Sentences For Conspiracy

Former Police Chief And Three Constables Start Sentences In Prison

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 2.—A former chief of police and three former constables of Westmoreland county today began serving sentences of from six months to one year for conspiring to violate the prohibition laws.

William A. Horne, ex-chief of police of Monessen, and ex-Constable Walter Wyatt were sentenced to one year in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., while Andy Dudas and John R. Mahusky must serve six months in the Westmoreland county jail.

The former officers were found guilty of "shaking down" bootleggers and giving protection to prohibition law violators, before Judge R. M. Gibson in district court a year ago. The case was carried to the circuit court and later to the United States supreme court, both bodies upholding the findings of the district court.

Requests Students Eat Before Leaving For Music Contest

LaVerne E. Irvine, director of music in the New Castle high schools, who is in charge of arrangements for the coming Grove City musical contest, to be held on Thursday, May 3, states that the contest authorities have requested him to ask the participants to eat their lunch before leaving for the college town, or either take it with them, as the facilities in the college town will not afford eating space for everyone who attends.

The authorities, who are planning to provide eating accomodations for all those coming from a great distance and are asking the participants who will attend from much nearer places to secure their lunch some place else in order to avoid much confusion.

No matter how much love is made there always seems to be a shortage.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 2.—Superior court reversed a decision of common pleas court of Mercer county, giving J. O. Stanford, a druggist, a new trial against the verdict of a few hundred dollars which was awarded Harry Artman, of Mercer county for the death of two cows.

In the Mercer trial, Artman set forth that, planning to "drench" his two cows, he asked at Sanford's store, for Epsom salts. Instead he received another lotion and the cows died.

In asking for a new trial, Sanford contended that he had not been allowed to rebut certain arguments of the plaintiffs.

Favorite Victuals Of Atlantic Fliers Made Public Through Wives

Fitzmaurice Has Liking For Corned Beef And Cabbage, Wife Asserts

Captain Koehl Is Strong For Bayrishire Knoedels, Says His German Wife

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 2.—Corn beef and cabbage or bayristhe knoedel; dishes fit for heroes and heroes' dishes, according to the wives of two heroes. While Major James Fitzmaurice and Captain Hermann Koehl, two of the Bremen trio, were being lavished here with American welcomes, hospitality and food, their wives found time to discuss their more intimate likes and dislikes.

Mrs. Elfrieda Koehl said that her husband's choicest meal consisted of bayristhe knoedel, while Mrs. Violet Fitzmaurice declared for corn beef and cabbage in her husband's behalf.

Corn beef and cabbage is easily enough understood in America, but bayristhe knoedel might cause some speculation. So Mrs. Koehl explains it.

How To Make Knoedels

A pound of whole wheat flour, a half loaf of dried, rye bread, two eggs, salt and enough water to make a good mixture, similar to bread dough, according to Mrs. Koehl, is the first step. Then the batter is rolled into balls, with chopped, boiled ham in the center. The balls are dropped into boiling water and cooked until they come to the surface, as do fried cakes.

When that is accomplished and a little bacon has been fried, the dish is ready to be served to her husband, Mrs. Koehl said. The bacon grease is poured over the knoedel balls and there is a portion of sauerkraut alongside.

The wives of the trans-Atlantic fliers are constantly thoughtful of their famous husbands and take delight in catering to them.

Jury Vindicates Canadian Leader In Libel Action

General Sir Arthur Currie, Awarded Verdict In Libel Suit Against Publication

(International News Service)

COBOURG, Ont., May 2.—General Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadian corps in France during the World War, today stood vindicated of charges published in the Port Hope, Ont., Guide, which slurred his war record, as the result of a libel suit which he instigated against the publication's publisher and the author of the charges.

After deliberating four hours a jury here awarded Sir Arthur $500 and costs. The costs are expected to reach about $30,000. Sir Currie sued for $50,000, but stated during the course of the trial that he wanted only vindication, not money.

Sir Arthur brought his action after the Port Hope Guide had published an article on June 13, 1927, charging that "to glorify the Canadian headquarters staff, Canadians were needlessly sent to capture the city of Mons from the Germans after the commander knew that the armistice had been signed.

Pittsburgh Rivers Start To Recede, Danger Is Passed

Monongahela And Allegheny Rivers Start To Fall, Flood Danger Over

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 2.—After rising to within one tenth of an inch of the flood stage late yesterday the waters of the Monongahela and Alegheny rivers were repidly receding today, weather bureau officials announced.

Complete reports from points along the streams show that all flood danger has passed and that the fall is general.

The sudden checking of the rising waters at the point where a flood seemed imminent was attributed by weather bureau officials to slightly cooler weather which halted rapidly melting snow and heavy rains.

From a high stage of 24.9 feet a three foot fall was recorded at the junction here. Although a few homes in the lowlands were reported flooded and in some instances roads were under water little damage was done a checkup showed.

Simplified Trouble-free—Guaranteed

This new-day refrigerator has set its own standard of perfection

The greatest electrical research organization in the world has now produced a perfect electric refrigerator.

The master minds of the General Electric laboratories (working over a period of fifteen years) have faced the problems of electric refrigeration and solved them one by one.

They have developed a refrigerator that is remarkably quiet. Stand three feet away and you will hardly be able to tell whether the motor is on or off.

They have cut down current consumption. This refrigerator actually costs less to run than the average family ice bill.

They have made an all-in-one unit that requires no assembling and no oiling. All the moving parts are enclosed in one hermetically sealed housing that keeps efficiency permanently in—and trouble out.

They have made a refrigerator that you should see, ask about, and compare with all others, before you decide to buy.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them. In the meanwhile, mail the coupon below for an interesting descriptive booklet.

Outstanding Advantages

Simplified—no pipes, no drains, no attachments. Portable—install anywhere. Just plug into nearest outlet and it starts.

NEW CASTLE WOMAN SUFFERED FROM CHILDHOOD WITH CATARRH

Says World's Tonic Removed Scabs in Nose, Watering of Eyes, Ringing Noises in Head, Offensive Breath and Mucus Dripping Into the Throat

World's Tonic Treatment for Catarrh is Systemic and Gives Quick and Lasting Results

The unusual merit of World's Tonic, the systemic treatment for catarrh, is seen in the number of stubborn cases of long standing which it has relieved.

"Ever since I was a girl I suffered from catarrh of the head. It was very disagreeable. Dry scabs formed in my nose every night. My eyes watered so bad it was an effort to read. I often had heavy, dull headaches; mucus dripped from my head into my throat almost constantly. I had to keep clearing my throat most of the time. There were ringing noises in my ears; each morning my tongue was coated and I had a bad taste in my mouth. In addition, my breath was foul and I was ashamed to get near anyone for fear they would get a whiff of my breath.

"World's Tonic is the only thing that ever helped me. It has entirely relieved my catarrh. I gave World's Tonic a fair trial and I have used five bottles in all and my former trouble has completely disappeared. I am recommending World's Tonic to all my friends," said a young Center street matron.

A special treatment for catarrh has long been needed. This can now be had in World's Tonic. It is a systemic treatment and combats the disease in two ways—first, by relieving the distress in the nasal passages and throat, which it does almost at once; second by combating the disease at the very seat of the trouble, within the system. Nothing like World's Tonic has ever been offered the public before. It has brought astonishing results in many cases.

If you suffer from Catarrh, talk with the World's Tonic druggist. He will explain the treatment to you. Sold at Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other reliable druggists. (257

Zoning Board Makes Decisions

Two Appeals Are Granted While Third Is Refused By Commission

Board of Zoning Appeals on Tuesday afternoon heard the three cases previously announced as coming up before the board at the May meeting.

But two members of the board were present, Matthew Gunton, the chairman and Mrs. Florence Pearson.

There was no opposition presented in either of the three appeals. One of the appeals was granted without any special provisions, one was granted subject to certain provisions that the board deemed necessary to protect the district in which the building is to be constructed, while the third appeal was refused.

Appeal of A. D. Donne for permission to construct on the west side of his home, which fronts on 805 Franklin avenue, and on the Ray street side of his lot, a brick storeroom, was granted. It was shown that the proposed storeroom was in a secondary business district and that while it was to be built at street level, necessitating the cutting away of a considerable terrace, that it would have a fourteen foot setback from the street and eight foot side yard.

Pasquale DiGarbo, 1513 Pennsylvania avenue, was refused his appeal for a permit to use the front room of his residence as a storeroom. Mr. DiGarbo did not appear, neither did any one in opposition. The board on investigation found that it was a C residence district in which no stores are permitted, also that there is a vacant storeroom a few doors from this place and others in the district and that there was no necessity for another business place.

The appeal of Lauren H. Thayer, 323 Lincoln avenue, was granted providing, that no part of the proposed house and garage be nearer than four feet to the property line of an alley running along it and that the house be placed at a forty foot setback from Lincoln avenue, in keeping with the balance of the homes of the district, instead of 48 feet as proposed.

Although there were no persons present objecting to the proposal of Mr. Thayer to construct the garage part of his residence flush with the alley property line and the house two feet from said line and to set back the house 48 feet instead of 40 feet from the Lincoln avenue property line, members of the board in reaching their decision, took into consideration the fact that on the alley, which has long been established, that all other garages have a set back of at least six feet and also that there is considerable traffic on the alley. They felt that it would be unwise to grant a permit for side yard conditions on the alley, where the zoning ordinance requires four feet, especially when it was possible to move the house sufficient to permit the required yard room. The same attitude was taken with regard to the proposed 48 foot setback from Lincoln avenue. It was thought that it would not be good policy to place this house out of a line consistent with the present setback of 40 feet.

Start Calf Club At Big Beaver

Fourteen Members Are Registered At First Meeting, County Agent States

Comprised of 14 members, a Holstein Junior Calf club was started in the Big Beaver community Tuesday evening, reports County Agent H. R. McCulloch, who with A. L. Baker of the Pennsylvania State College, assisted in organizing the club. The organization was the result of a meeting held with the boys and girls of the community.

At the present time the First National Bank of Wampum is cooperating in the project, states Mr. McCulloch, and they are doing their best in assisting the boy and girl members to acquire calves.

"Interest in Pennsylvania's dairy industry is not confined to adult dairymen," states Mr. McCulloch. He points to the 100 per cent increase in 4-H dairy calf club enrollment during the past year as evidence that farm boys and girls are looking ahead and taking advantage of opportunities to secure a substantial start in the dairy business.

Hanlon Urges Focus Of Auto Headlights

Motor Club Secretary Asks Motorists To Keep Lights In Good Condition

Maintaining headlights of automobiles in constant adjustment so as to obviate the discomfort and hazard which result from the glare and lack of focus is a duty which rests upon the shoulders of motordom as a whole, says Bernard N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club. There can be no exceptions to this rule, it is pointed out, since driving is safe only in proportion to the extent which all dangerous factors are eliminated.

Failure to maintain one's lights in the best possible condition both as to brilliancy and focus is a distinct act of unfairness on the part of the motorist who is negligent in this respect, declares Mr. Hanlon. In doing so, one imposes a hardship on others that he himself will be unwilling to bear.

School Board Opens Bids On Side Walk And Flag Pole

Boys In Workshop May Erect Partition In Room At Rear Of Gymnasium

Resignation Of Frank Attinger, Principal Of High School, Accepted

ELLWOOD CITY, May 2.—At the regular monthly meeting of the board of education, which took place Tuesday evening in their room in the Lincoln school, bids on the sidewalk construction on the grounds, and the erection of the flagpole were opened. Leland and Frasso submitted a bid of $1,195; E. J. Allison, $794, and Anthony Rufus, $900. There was some discussion concerning one of the bids which did not contain the flagpole alternate bid, and the entire three bids were held over until an adjourned meeting of the board, which will take place May 22.

Supt. W. Ray Smith presented the resignation of Frank Attinger, present principal of the Senior High school. Prof. Attinger's resignation takes effect at the end of the school term. He has been offered the position of superintendent of the Selling Grove schools. His resignation was accepted by the board.

Finance Committee

Members of the finance committee reported that the 1928-29 budget was practically completed and present budget plan up-to-date. They requested that the school tax millage be set at the adjourned meeting. They also recommended the payment of two bonds approximating $2,000 and $600 interest. It was also made known at this time that there is about $25,000 back school taxes still to be collected and that the collector is prepared to take drastic actions regarding the collection of same.

Building Committee

Members of the building committee reported that they expected the completion of the third floor of the Lincoln Junior High school by the last of the month if present progress continues. Their recommendation for the purchase of an automatic stoker for the boiler room was approved by the board.

Members of the educational committee through Superintendent Smith presented a lengthy report, including the following: The date set for the 1928-29 school year will be Wednesday following Labor Day, or September 5.

Asked the board's consent to the use of the school band in the Community Chest parade, free of charge. The board approved.

They further recommended that the secretary include a list of the current bills in the minutes sent to the members of the board previous to the meeting, so that each member could personally study the submitted charges for the month. The members also decided in connection with this to change the meeting night from the first Tuesday in the month to the second Tuesday, owing to the fact that several of the bills were not in at the time of the meeting on the former date.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Vengeance Of Rain-In-The-Face

IN 1873, TWO CIVILIAN MEMBERS OF CUSTER'S EXPLORING EXPEDITION INTO THE BLACK HILLS, A DOCTOR AND A SUTLER, WERE BRUTALLY MURDERED AND SCALPED BY A SOLITARY INDIAN. A YEAR LATER, RAIN-IN-THE-FACE, A SIOUX NOTED FOR HIS FEROCITY, CAME INTO THE SUTLER'S STORE OF THE STANDING ROCK AGENCY IN DAKOTA, AND OPENLY BOASTED OF HAVING COMMITTED THE REVOLTING CRIME.

THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES WERE NOTIFIED AND CAPT. TOM CUSTER, BROTHER OF GEN. CUSTER, ENTERED THE STORE AND SEIZED THE MURDERER WHILE HE WAS DRAWING RATIONS. RAIN-IN-THE-FACE WAS TAKEN TO FORT ABRAHAM LINCOLN, NEAR BISMARCK, AND HELD FOR TRIAL.

THOUGH CLOSELY WATCHED, HE MANAGED TO ESCAPE AND FLED TO THE VILLAGE OF SITTING BULL. ENRAGED BY HIS CAPTURE AND IMPRISONMENT, RAIN-IN-THE-FACE SWORE TO HAVE REVENGE, AND SENT TOM CUSTER A MESSAGE, VOWING THAT WHEN NEXT HE MET THAT OFFICER HE WOULD KILL HIM, CUT OUT HIS HEART AND EAT IT.

FATE BROUGHT THE TWO FACE TO FACE TWO YEARS LATER AT THE BATTLE OF THE LITTLE BIG HORN, WHEN THE SIOUX MASSACRED GEN. CUSTER AND HALF OF HIS REGIMENT. CAPT. TOM CUSTER FELL ON THAT BLOODY FIELD BY A SHOT FROM RAIN-IN-THE-FACE'S REVOLVER, AND THE CRUEL SAVAGE MADE GOOD HIS FIENDISH THREAT.

PLAN PROBE OF SHARKEY-DELANEY FIGHT

Boxing Board Is Up In Air

New York State Boxing Solons Hear Rumors Regarding Quick Knockout

PROMOTERS WILL HAVE TO EXPLAIN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The proposed investigation by the New York Boxing Commission into the circumstances surrounding the Sharkey-Delaney knockout was proceeding today through a labyrinth of innuendoes suggestive circumstances and allegations. These were the type similar to those in circulation before, after and during the course of many fights, only this time they were deemed of sufficient plausibility to prompt Chairman James A. Farley of order an inquiry.

Farley, however, did not take this action until the stories were consolidated into a chain of circumstantial evidence and presented by a local newspaper for his consideration in the form of a hypothetical case. The presentation apparently found the official in a receptive mood, for it came as the climax of a week of rumors, sufficiently plausible, in his estimation, to cause him to order a sharply worded warning to the fighters by the referee before the bout.

Visits Delaney

These stories likewise were alleged to have impressed Tex Rickard to the extent that his matchmaker, Jess McMahon, was supposed to have visited Delaney's camp in order to judge the young man's condition. It seemed, however, that it was an off day in the Delaney camp, so McMahon is said to have returned without specific information.

The stories further were said to have caused a hurried conference between Rickard, Jimmy Johnston and Johnny Buckley, managers of Sharkey, an hour before the fight. The conference, it was said, threw no light on the situation.

If Farley's proposed investigation takes the usual form those identified with the bout will be hailed before the commission at its next meeting on Friday. The chairman, however, had nothing to add today to his original statements, contenting himself with saying that many rumors about the fight had reached his ears during the past week or more and that he considered that these were worth looking into.

Of the newspapermen congregated at the ringside, the vast majority saw only a remarkable com- back on the part of Sharkey in the seventy-three second knockout of Delaney. Most of them said that Sharkey "looked great". The writer failed to see Sharkey in that light, it being his idea that the Boston entry looked good only because Delaney obviously was had.

Delaney Dazed

The latter, seemed to be in a daze, for they had to ring the bell twice to get him out of his corner. Sharkey's punching was slovenly and poorly timed. He threw long right handers at random and that was the way they landed. Delaney didn't seem to be able to untrack himself and stood there, fascinated, as the punches came over to beat him down. He came up the first time without a count, took the full nine on the next trip and then reeled forward directly into the uppercut that finished him.

Sharkey put everything he had behind that last punch. It had all the follow through of a long tee shot, with the shoulder snap imparted at just the correct instant to make the impact carry full authority.

This is what some 15,000 spectators saw. If Farley saw anything else, he was keeping it to himself today.

JOE WOOD

Joe Wood, baseball coach at Yale university, is having a merry time of it with his boys. Seven of nine Eli regulars figured in a shakeup of the Blue baseball nine that shocked the New Haven institution almost out of its boots.

Wood has taken drastic measures to whip his boys into a winning nine. He made infielders out of outfielders and vice versa. Two regulars were benched.

Wood was a famous Red Sox pitcher in his heyday and later played in the outfield for Cleveland. As "Smoky Joe" he was a noted world series player.

The pitting of game chickens against each other is regarded as a national sport in Belgium.

The riding of Earl Sande, premier jockey, has brought $2,550,320 to his various backers since 1918.

Stoneham, boss of the New York Giants, has been held for brokerage frauds. But he would probably be adamant if tempted to be dishonest in baseball.

Fred's Big Year

By Feg Murray

Funny fellow this Fred "Firpo" Marberry, who in the last four years has worked in 225 ball games as a pitcher and pitched only 11 complete contests in those four seasons. Tall, dark, weighing 200 pounds, throwing an batting right-handed, "Firpo" has all the makings of a Walter Johnson or a "Matty" yet for four long lean years he has sat in the bull pen until Manager Bucky Harris sent out an "S. O. S." Then he would go in to try to retrieve a lost cause or to save a game about to be thrown into the defeat column by a wabbly teammate.

Now it appears that Fred the Firp, is about to come into his own. With Sir Walter gone, Marberry seems destined to be one of the star hurlers of the American league in 1928. Certainly he will do more than relief duty as his two early victories have shown.

Marberry's record as a relief pitcher for Washington during the seasone of 1924, '25, '26 and '27 was quite remarkable. He pitched in half a hundred games the first season six of them complete. In 1925 he worked in 55 contests ant not once did he take the mound at the start of his team's first inning on the field. In 1926 he figured in 64 games yet only three was complete ones for him. Last season his record shows 56 contests, only two of them complete.

His value to his team was far greater than the mere 40 games he received credit for winning those four seasons.

In 1924 when Johnson was voted the most valuable American league player, Fred came to Sir Walter's aid on six different occasions. He saved a game for other hurlers and this year the big Texan wants to cash in on his own victories.

Feg Murray Says.

"A crowd of several thousand who had watched the fastest traveling man—." From New York newspaper account of Ray Keech's new auto record.

Traveling men are supposed to be pretty fast and no doubt the fastest one of all would bear watching, even by a crowd of several thousand.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

Gene Tunney has decided to take a voyage around the world. He believes travel broadens the mind. But it also narrows the bankroll.

One of the spots Tunney will visit is France. He once fought every day there for $6 a week. But those were wartimes and salaries were not what they are today.

Tunney may also visit England where his old friend, Bill Shakespeare, lived. Gene's interest in Shakespeare ought to make the Bard of Avon, as Tunney humorously calls him, famous some day.

It is hardly likely that Gene will visit Russia. Those Soviet fellows are terribly crude. They haven't the slightest idea how important a heavyweight champion is.

Also scratch China off the list. There's no use going to a country where they already have a couple of dozen million fighters.

Gene plans his big trip to take place right after his fight with Tom Heeney. Tunney's title might also be taking a trip about that time — but in another direction.

British Hope To Annex Victory In Golf Tournament

England Golfers Hope For Victory In Open Tourney To Start Soon

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 2.—All England and Scotland are anxiously hoping for a British victory in the open golf championship which will be played at Sandwich on May 7th and 8th. Britain has had only one victory in this tournament since the war. That wa in 1923 when the championship wa won by Arthur Havers.

It is true that, during the postwar period, victory has been achieved by Jock Hutchinson and Jim Barnes—players of the British birth and breeding—but only once in that time has a home-playing golfer carried off the title.

British golfers do not overlook the fact that this year's contingent from the United States will be about as strong as ever, although the decisive defeat of Walter Hagen by Archie Compston at Moor Lake has lessened the chances of the Yankees, in the opinion of British experts. In addition to Hagen there will be Tommy Armour, R. A. Cruikshank, Jim Barnes and MacDonald Smith.

Giants Back In Front Again As Dodgers Falter

Giants Make It Two In Row Over Brooklyn; Eastern Teams To Start West

ATHLETICS WIN SEVENTH STRAIGHT

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 2.—Having knocked the Brooklyn Robins out of first place the New York Giants were determined to make it three straight at the expense of the Robins today and go west tonight strongly entrenched in first place.

With Fitzsimmons and Faulkner on the mound the New Yorkers trimmed Brooklyn by a 4 to 2 score yesterday. Harper's home run took the steam out of Dazzy Vance.

While the Giants face tough opposition in the coming inter-sectional contests, the Yankees are again blasting their way through all American league opposition. Led by G. Herman Ruth who raised his emaciated batting average to the respectable mark of .313 by clouting two singles, a triple and his fifth home run, the world's champions trounced Washington again yesterday 8 to 5. The Senators have lost eight straight.

Pittsburgh moving up fast in the National league standing again defeated the Chicago Cubs 4 to 1. Carmen Hill allowed only five hits and George Grantham the league's leading batter, had a perfect day at bat with three bingles.

Braves Advance.

Red Lucas outpitched Alexander the Great as the scintillating Cincinnatis outslugged the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 3.

The Boston Braves made their hits count and handed the Phillies a 5 to 3 beating. The Back Bay boys passed the slipping Cubs and jumped to sixth place.

Johnny Hodapp whose errors cost the Indians a ball game on Monday squared himself with the Cleveland fans by driving in four runs against the St. Louis Browns. These tallies were just enough to give the Indians a 4 to 3 margin.

Grandpa Ty Cobb is still going strong with the rejuvenated Athletics who have copped seven straight games. A timely single by Tyrus yesterday staked the Mackmen to a 5 to 3 win over the Red Sox.

Detroit collected 16 hits including seven doubles in taking a 10 to 5 slugfest from the White Sox. Harry Rice knocked in no less than seven runs.

Progress always hurts somebody. When men began to bathe every day, perfume manufacturers suffered.

Defeated French Cabinet Member To Be Given Dismissal

(International News Service)

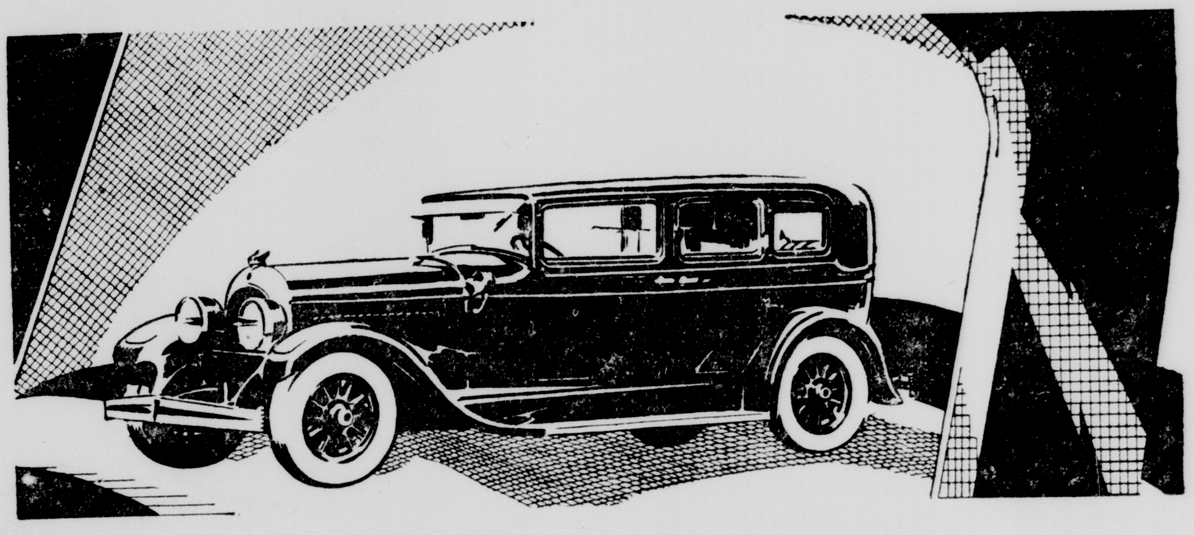
PARIS, May 2.—With the exception of Minister of Labor Fallieres, the present cabinet of Premier Poincare will remain in power, the premier himself announced this afternoon following a ministerial council. M. Fallieres will be dropped because he was defeated for the chamber of deputies in the recent election.

This means that the government of national union will continue to rule France.

New European Champ

Mario Basisio, hard-hitting Italian fighter, who reigns as middleweight champion of Europe. Basisio defeated Molina, the Frenchman, to win the title.

See the "72" romp away from them all



The one great outstanding fact in automobiles today is that, while practically every car that runs is patterned after Chrysler—the Illustrious "72" continues to romp away from and around them all in every phase of performance that makes motoring a pleasure. Which can and does mean only one thing, of course—that since it can quickly be proven that Chrysler "72" excels every car which seeks to compete with it without a single exception, it unmistakably gives the greatest monetary and performance return which exists in the world motor-car market today.

Illustrious New Chrysler "72" Prices—Two-passenger Coupe (with rumble seat), $1545; Royal Sedan, $1595; Sport Roadster (with rumble seat), $1595; Four-passenger Coupe, $1595; Town Sedan, $1695; Convertible Coupe (with rumble seat), $1745; Crown Sedan, $1795. All prices f. o. b. Detroit, subject to current Federal excise tax.

Chrysler dealers are in a position to extend the convenience of time payments . . . New Chrysler "Red-Head" Engine—designed to take full advantage of high-compression gas, standard equipment on all body models of the 112 h. p. Imperial "80," also standard on the roadsters, and available at slight extra cost for other body types, of the "62" and "72."

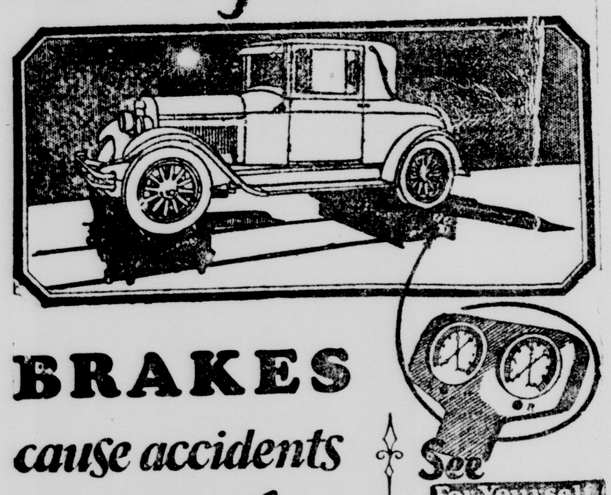
A New Safety Service



BRAKES cause accidents or prevent them

—which kind are yours?

It only takes one skid—one emergency in which brakes fail to hold—to cause an accident. It might be slight—perhaps a jammed fender—and it might cost a life. Why gamble with chance? Brakes, out of balance or not equalized will cause a car to skid to the right or left. Four-wheel brakes—when out of adjustment—add no more to your ability to stop than two-wheel brakes. Your car is only as safe as its brakes. Keep them in perfect adjustment.

We have installed a new JUMBO Giant Brake Tester that scientifically tests two or four-wheel brakes. Use our accurate test every 1500 miles. If adjustments are needed we will make them quickly—at a very reasonable charge.

See For Yourself

Right before your eyes—on accurate hydraulic gauges—the JUMBO Brake Tester reveals the true condition of the brake on each wheel. Eliminates all chance for human error—no guesswork. Assures positive equalization and perfect balance of brakes—maximum braking efficiency—"guaranteed safety!"

What is a used car bargain? Is it a used car of uncertain age and mechanical condition, sold at a so-called "marked down" price? or is it a good car, sold by a reliable dealer, for a price that he knows is fair? We know automobiles. That's our business! And we know what they're worth when we take them in trade on new Buicks. We always give our used car customers a square deal—both in the price and in the condition of the car. Our reputation is too valuable to risk by anything short of absolute fairness and honesty.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 2.—Speculative activity in the early trading today shifted from the oil and motor car stocks to the low-priced rails, the utilities and the New York City tractions, Chicago and Alton common and preferred continued their spectacular upward movement, on reports of heavy acquisition of the stock by the Pennsylvania Railroad interests. At 18½ the common stock showed a gain of 5 points in the first half hour, and sold at double yesterday's low price.

Radio started a new advance on the strength of General Harboard's favorable statement on prospective dividends for the holders of the common stock. General Motors, American Smelting, Mack Trucks, Southern Railway and other speculative favorites gained momentum in the upward direction as the session advanced, adding a point or more to their opening gains of from one to two points.

The call loan rate was unchanged at 5½ per cent, with funds freely offered.

The motor and industrial stocks joined the forward move in the second hour. General Motors moved up 3 points to 193⅛. Radio was up 5½ and American Smelting up 3. Standard Oil of New Jersey declined to 45½, but Standard of New York retained the bulk of its recent gains. Copper stocks were strong in this period.

Rev. J. S. Duncan Kiwanis Speaker

Mercer Pastor Makes Address On "John Brown" At Noon Meeting

"John Brown, His Character and Career", was the subject today of an interesting address delivered before the Kiwanis Club by Rev. John S. Duncan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Mercer, Pa.

Rev. Duncan is a cultured gentleman, an entertaining speaker and has a host of facts concerning the man who was alternately eulogized and excoriated during his stormy career.

In a pleasing manner Rev. Duncan reviewed his early life, how he settled in Crawford county in early manhood and later went to Missouri and Kansas. From here he made his famous sortie into Virginia on the arsenal at Harper's Ferry, now in West Virginia. By a strange coincidence the commander of the arsenal was Colonel Robert E. Lee, another officer was Stewart and still another Stonewall Jackson. All three of them were later prominent in the Civil War. A soldier who was on duty at the hanging of John Brown was John Wilkes Booth, the assassinator of Abraham Lincoln.

Rev. Duncan has studied the life of John Brown and his address today was thoroughly enjoyed. He was brought here through the courtesy of Bud Langdon, formerly a New Castle business man, now of Mercer, Pa.

Police Convinced Gordon Drowned

Since the Monday night of last week, now a matter of ten days, not a trace of Thomas J. Gordon, aged 25, 20 North Cedar street, who engaged in a gun battle with members of the police force and then jumped into the Shenango river at the Carnegie Steel company intake, has been found by the police authorities or the members of his family.

According to Chief of Police C. C. Horner, the most plausible solution of the mysterious affair and disappearance of Gordon, is that he was drowned in the high waters of the river, when he jumped in and that his body has been swept on down the river and may eventually be recovered at some distant point.

F. J. Prince, one of Reed's campaign managers, declared, however, "the fight will go on just the same, and will not be abated one jot".

Senator Edwards (D) of New Jersey, one of Smith's warmest supporters, declared that now that Smith has beaten the opposition on its own stamping ground, nothing can prevent his nomination and election.

Politicians Using Radio As Football, Commissioner Says

Lack Of Proper Understanding Has Caused Improvements To Be Given Go-By

Member Of Federal Radio Board Makes Plea For "Listeners" To Lend Aid

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Politicians are making radio a football of politics and through lack of understanding are threatening to defeat a sound engineering program of meeting the broadcasting difficulty, according to O. H. Caldwell of the federal radio commission.

"The best engineering minds of the country are agreed on a program based on simple radio principles and sound past experience," Caldwell said. "Conference after conference has failed to shake the plan or to present improvements.

"Yet, with politicians opposing it because they cannot understand it, the plan may be held in abeyance for sheer lack of support."

Makes Direct Appeal

Caldwell made a plea to radio listeners to assist in the effort to permit solution of the radio problem on scientific rather than political principles. He pointed out that "the politician who by such false appeals as cutting radio powers, proposes to waste a public resource, while depriving millions of listeners of their favorite program, soon must face an aroused public."

Caldwell attacked the campaign of criticism that has been directed against the assigning of exclusive channels to single powerful stations. To the lay political mind such channels might better be shared by a dozen or more local county seat broadcasters.

"Of course, the fact is that with such a channel shared by a number of stations the distant listener would get nothing but howls or heterodyne squeals, owing to the interaction of the several carrier waves."

The commissioner said that if broadcasters are to reach the remote listeners on the farms, in the mountain cabins, on the plains and in the crossroads and villages, "we must reach these folk solely through exclusive channels." He pointed out that over 60,000,000 Americans live 100 miles or more from a broadcasting station.

Speak of Menace

"Any politician who proposes to destroy these exclusive rural channels will do so at the cost of depriving millions of remote Americans of their favorite evening diversion."

"High power radio transmitters as a 'menace' constitute another sophistry for the politicians. The politicians' attack is against any station having more than 5,000 watts.

"To cut the power of an existing 50,000-watt transmitter to 5,000 watts as has been proposed would be as abhorrent and wasteful of the wavelength, a public resource, as to permit only 10 feet of a 100-foot waterfall to be utilized."

Plans Of Mercer School Started

No Time Will Be Lost In Improving School Plant With Bond Money

MERCER, Pa., May 2.—No time has been lost by the school board in taking up the matter of starting the improvements on the school plant made possible by the passage of the school bond issue for $50,000. Friday night the architect from Youngstown met with the board and was instructed to lose no time in getting the plans and specifications ready to submit to bid.

The preliminary of preparing the bonds will be taken up at once and submitted to the state for its approval, which is made necessary by a recent act of the legislature.

The architect was impressed with the fact that there could be no delay in the preparation of the specifications as it is absolutely necessary that additional recitations be ready for use when school opens next fall, and the auditorium and gymnasium must be enclosed by that time.

The additional recitation rooms are to be built on the present annex erected several years ago, and will necessitate the removal of the portable building.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There have been a lot of parades in New Castle in the years gone by. Gay parades, military parades, parades with gaily caparisoned horses and bespangled women. Parades boosting Liberty Bonds and Red Cross, Sunday Schools and civic clubs. But of all the parades that have tramped Washington street in the past twenty years, I nominate that Boys Parade yesterday afternoon as the best of them all.

There wasn't a great deal of artificial color in it, no highly decorative costumes, no decorated trucks, just boys, hundreds of them, real honest to goodness American boys, but to my mind it was the greatest parade ever held here.

Now every kid in that line didn't have his shoes shined, and a lot of them needed their neck washed. A lot of stocking knees looked suspiciously like stockings that had been kneeled on in a commy game. Trousers pockets bulged suspiciously as though they contained tops and shooters and bits of scrap iron.

But looking at that parade one couldn't help but think ahead a few years, say fifteen or twenty. There were artists in that parade, and actors and architects, business men and baseball players, doctors and druggists and dentists, lawyers and preachers and if necessary, soldiers and sailors.

The future mayor of New Castle was undoubtedly in that line, perhaps our future congressman or United States senator. Or even a president. Just boys yesterday, but men tomorrow. Freckle faced, pug nosed kids, with the usual boyish abhorrence of soap and water, but what a crowd it was. New Castle can well be proud of that bunch for it won't be so very long until they will replace a lot of the fellows who were on the sidelines watching them.

Still a little time left to tell Jos. S. Rice that you will use your car to haul musicians over to Grove City on Thursday. Call him up, tell him you'll take two or three High School students over.

This story may even be true. But the fact that it is being written is no guarantee of it. Down at the Moravia Hump the boys of the P. R. R. have a fish pond. Now according to Roger Francis there are gold fish in that pond 18 inches long. Yes, gold fish, not muscallonge. And they are eighteen inches long, according to Roger. Now if Roger told me that he was going to sing a tenor solo I'd believe him for I know he can do it, but a gold fish eighteen inches long sounds like too much gold or too many inches or something. Perhaps the boys are trying to rival Wes Davy's whiskered fish from Nova Scotia. Anyway there's the story. Gold fish eighteen inches long. G'wan.

It must be the spring weather. Officer Bud Fleeger insists that there is a sea gull flying around the Neshannock Creek the past few days. According to my idea a sea gull has to have a lot of sea to fly about, and the nearest sea is 400 miles away. If this is a sea gull what is it doing here, and why did it come here? Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce has something up the sleeve in the way of an ocean harbor for New Castle.

According to Eddie Fritz who covers council, Long avenue is scheduled to be resurfaced this spring. Which calls for three long cheers and a tiger. At the present time the street from Hamilton to Belmont looks like a pair of corduroy pants and if council is going to resurface this, all of them deserve the Croix de Paving, with palm.

Veterans Foreign Wars To Sell Buddy Poppies

Sale Will Be Held Saturday, May 26th, In This City

Among the spring flowers that are now continually springing into blossom will be the Buddy Poppy, that symbol of America's tribute to its war dead.

On May 26 the members and friends of Harry L. McBride Post Veterans of Foreign Wars will say it with these flowers to the disabled veteran and to his dependents that they have not forgotten the sacrifices, the suffering and illness caused by service in the late war.

The Buddy Poppy is made in government hospitals by the disabled veterans. They furnish them with an income to buy the necessities that are not supplied by regulations. It enables them to keep their minds occupied and brings relief to nerves drawn taut through worry and mental strain. Truly in this way we "honor the dead by helping the living."

The proceeds of this poppy sale is solely for the relief of disabled veterans or their dependents. The National home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., is a home where children with their mothers are furnished with a home, clothes and school facilities the same as if their fathers survived. The Posts of Pennsylvania are only waiting for favorable weather to start the erection of their home. One cent from each poppy goes to maintain this National home and at the present time there are 20 children there and they are taking them as fast as the facilities are finished to take care of them.
